ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 13

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital to be given in the Duke University Chapel, Sunday, September 13, at 4:30 p.m., by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist, in connection with the Freshman Week Program:

Johann Sebastian Bach Toccata and Fugue in D Minor

The great popularity of this toccata and fugue is largely due to its dramatic nature which appeals to our romantic instincts. One may gather some idea of the prophetic vision of this great master if he but recall that the eighteenth century was anything but romantic. An artist did not strive to appeal to one's emotions but to create a work of art as nearly perfect as possible in every minute detail.

César Franck Pastorale

Franck is perhaps the greatest master of chromaticism in the nineteenth century. His harmonies seem to glide from one to the next, the changes being so subtle that even harsh dissonances are at times unnoticeable.

This pastorale is in a three-part form. The opening phrases are played entirely upon the oboe, a practice quite common among French organists who are extremely fond of the reeds and the squeaking high notes of mixtures. The first phrase is balanced by a shorter phrase given out on the antiphonal organ. The balance of phrases continues throughout the first section. After a transition the second section of the work appears, distinguishable by the six fast notes. The first section reappears, completing the three-part form.

Peter Il'yitch Tchaikowsky Dance of the Reed Flutes

One of Tchaikowsky's most colorful creations is the Nutcracker Suite for orchestra. This is a programmatic type of music; it tells a story. Claire, a little poor girl, dreams on Christmas night. The hopelessly unromantic household nutcracker comes to life and leads the tin soldiers against the mouse-king. When Claire saves his life by slaying the furry commander, the nutcracker becomes a fairy prince, and they fly away to fairyland to see all the strange and marvelous sights. This is where the reed flutes dance.

Jules Massenet

Meditation from Thaïs

The opera, Thaïs, is built around the life of the entrancing and beautiful Egyptian slave girl named Thaïs. The music is romantic, oriental, exotic. From it comes this soothing and delightful meditation.

Henri Mulet

Carillon Sortie

It is only occasionally that one finds an organ composition of such brilliance. The main theme always sounds forth with a bold vigor well displayed by the big reeds of the organ. It builds to a full climax with several rhythms contributing to the heightened effect.

DUKE-DAVIDSON GAME AT GREENSBORO, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 8:00 P.M.

The first football game of Duke's 1936 Varsity schedule will be the contest with Davidson in Memorial Stadium, at Greensboro, on the evening of Saturday, September 19. The kick-off will be at 8:00 o'clock.

As the opening performance of the new academic year, Quadrangle Pictures will present Loretta Young, Franchot Tone, and Lewis Stone in "The Unguarded Hour", also Bob Van Camp at the organ. Saturday, September 12, with continuous performances from 1:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. This performance is complimentary to the men of the class of '40, and on Wednesday, September 16, the women of the class of '40 will be honor guests of Quadrangle Pictures at the showing of "Small Town Girl" with Janet Gaynor and Robert Taylor. The honor guests will be welcome anytime between the hours of 7:00 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. Guest tickets for the men may be secured by calling at the Y. M. C. A. office, room 201, University Union. Hereafter, the Calendar will appear every Saturday morning as it has for the past five years.

A particular request is made of members of the faculty and the University community generally. Please get any notice for publication in the Calendar into the PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICE, 103 UNIVERSITY UNION, NOT LATER THAN 10:00 A.M., ON FRIDAY. This is absolutely necessary in order that the calendars may be handled by the printers and be ready for distribution early Saturday morning.

It is requested also that, wherever possible, the notices be sent into the office rather than given over the telephone. This will make for more satisfactory service for all concerned.

MEETING OF COLLEGE FACULTY, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17

"THE TRUTH SHALL MAKE YOU FREE," DR. RUSSELL'S SUBJECT FOR SUNDAY

"The Truth Shall Make You Free," will be the subject of the sermon by Dr. Elbert Russell, Preacher to the University, at the University Service of Worship on Sunday, September 20, at 11:00 a.m. There will be special musical numbers.

The order of service will be as follows:

PROFESSOR H. E. MYERS, Presiding

Organ—Andante Tranquillo Mendelssohn
 Call to Worship—The Lord's Prayer Forsyth-Kraft
 Hymn—Come Thou Almighty King (Italian Hymn) Giardini
 Prayer

Contralto Solo—How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings Liddle
 MISS EVELYN BARNES

How lovely are Thy dwellings, O Lord of Hosts!
 My soul longeth, yea, fainteth, for the courts of the Lord;
 My heart and my flesh cry out for the living God.
 Yea, the sparrow hath found her a house, and the swallow a nest, where she may lay her young, even Thine altars,
 O Lord of Hosts, my King and my God.
 O Lord of Hosts, hear my prayer.
 I would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness.
 For a day in Thy courts is better than a thousand.

Hymn—I Would Be True (Peck) Peck

Scripture

Anthem—Magnificat P. C. Lutkin

My soul, my soul doth magnify the Lord, and my spirit hath rejoiced in God, my Saviour.
 For He hath regarded the lowliness of His handmaiden,
 For behold from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

For He that is mighty, hath magnified me, and Holy is His name.
 And His mercy is on them that fear Him throughout all generations.

He hath shewed strength with His arm,
 He hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts
 He hath put down the mighty from their seat, and hath exalted the humble and meek.
 He hath filled the hungry with good things; and the rich He hath sent empty away.
 He remembreth His mercy, hath holpen His servant, Israel,
 As He promised to our forefathers, Abraham and his seed forever.
 Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost,
 As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be,
 World without end, Amen.

Sermon—"The Truth Shall Make You Free"

Dr. Elbert Russell

Benediction

Response By Choir

The Lord bless you and keep you, The Lord lift His countenance upon you; and give you peace.
 The Lord make His face to shine upon you, and be gracious unto you. Amen.

Organ—Marcia in D Major

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital to be given in the University Chapel Sunday, September 20, at 4:30 p.m., by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Dietrich Buxtehude

Prelude, Fugue and Chaconne

The Lutheran reformation produced a school of excellent organists and composers in Germany in the seventeenth century. One of the best of these was Buxtehude, a Dane, who moved to Lübeck where he established a series of musical services at the Marienkirche which were famous throughout Europe. His works are very closely the forerunners of those of Bach, who is said to have walked some fifty miles to hear Buxtehude play.

Louis Nicolas Clerambault

Prelude

With the appearance of the great Viennese composers, Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, and Schubert, the trend of musical development the world over was German. This has always been irritating to the French, who have not been able to contribute much of importance until the arrival of Debussy. The modern Frenchmen are looking for inspiration to the seventeenth century composers such as Clerambault and Couperin, who had not at that time come under the German influence.

Johann Sebastian Bach

My Jesu, What Dread Agony

This is one of four sacred songs arranged for the organ by Harvey Grace, the eminent, contemporary, British composer. Can any modern artist create a more beautiful melody?

César Franck

Chorale in B Minor

The three organ chorales are the last of Franck's works. One finds a rather small total of compositions by this great man; but all of them are masterpieces. It is probable that since he was so remarkable at improvisation, he committed to paper only the best of his creations to leave to posterity.

Nikolai Rimsky-Korsakov

Song of India

The Song of India is an aria from Rimsky-Korsakov's opera "Sadko."

Joseph Bonnet

Concert Variations

After a brief introduction of a few flashing chords, the graceful melody in chorale style is proclaimed rather softly. Then follow in changing rhythms and colors four variations of this melody. The close is an interesting pedal cadenza followed by a few more fiery chords which rush to a brilliant climax.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY TO MEET OCTOBER 7

The first meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary for the new academic year, 1936-1937, will be held on Wednesday morning, October 7, from 10:00-12:00, in room 124, Duke Hospital, meeting each Wednesday at the same place and hour. It is hoped that the Auxiliary will have the earnest and interested support of everyone, and that they will attend the Wednesday meetings regularly.

DUKE ALUMNI HOMECOMING, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26

Saturday, September 26, the day of the Duke-Colgate football game, will be observed as 1936 Homecoming, and Durham-Duke Day. Alumni and students will be assisted in making this day memorable in the history of the University by various local civic organizations and Durham citizens generally. Advance indications point to a record-breaking attendance at that time.

One of the outstanding features of the day will be the Durham-Duke parade at 11:00 a.m. There will be a number of bands in the parade, a large number of attractively decorated floats, and other features. There will be a reviewing stand on Main Street from which State, County and City and University officials will view the pageant. It is expected that the largest number of home people and visitors in the history of Durham will participate in this and other features of the day.

On the campus, the alumni will begin registering early in the morning and continue during the morning hours. Except for the time of the parade, there will be group and committee meetings. The annual barbecue luncheon will be held at 12:30 in the grove adjoining Crowell House, this to be followed by the Duke-Colgate game at 2:30 p.m. Following the game there will be informal "get-togethers," fraternity open houses, brief musical programs, and other features. Out-of-town alumni will be guests of the management of Quadrangle Pictures in the evening at the performance in Page Auditorium, at the showing of "Petticoat Fever," with Robert Montgomery and Myrna Loy.

Probably a large number of alumni will remain for the Sunday Service of Worship in the University Chapel, as was done last year. Dr. Frank S. Hickman, University Preacher, will deliver the sermon at 11:00 a.m. The Sunday afternoon organ recital will be given by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, at 4:30 o'clock.

MEETING OF COLUMBIA LITERARY SOCIETY

The Columbia Literary Society will hold its first meeting of the new academic year Sunday afternoon, in room 205, Union Building, at 2:30 o'clock. All freshmen are invited to attend. It is imperative that all old members be present at this meeting.

MEETING OF LAW SCHOOL FACULTY

There will be a meeting of the faculty of the School of Law on Tuesday, September 22, at 4:00 p.m., in the office of the Dean, on the second floor of the Law School.

OPEN SWIMMING HOURS FOR WOMEN

On Tuesday nights from 7:30 to 8:00 o'clock and on Fridays from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., the swimming pool on the Woman's College campus will be open for women students, members of the staff and faculty wives.

QUADRANGLE PICTURES TO PRESENT BILL DALTON, RICHMOND ORGANIST WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23

On Wednesday, September 23, Quadrangle Pictures will present, in addition to the feature picture, Exclusive Story with Franchot Tone and Madge Evans, Bill Dalton, organist from Lowe's Theatre, in Richmond, Virginia. Mr. Dalton will appear twice, at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon and at 9:00 o'clock in the evening.

SCHOOL OF RELIGION TO HOLD FORMAL OPENING THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, AT 11:30 A.M.

The formal opening exercises for the School of Religion will take place Thursday, September 24, at 11:30 a.m., in York Chapel. At this time an address will be delivered by Professor H. E. Myers.

SPECIAL GERMAN CLASS

All graduate students interested in a special tutoring class for a reading knowledge of German, are requested to meet with Dr. Krummel, Wednesday, September 23, at 7:30 p.m., in room 204, Page Auditorium.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON ORGAN RECITAL

Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist, has arranged the following program for the organ recital to be given Sunday, September 27, at 4:30 p.m., in the University Chapel:

Johann Sebastian Bach Dorian Toccata

The Dorian mode is a scale used by the ancient Greeks. Our nearest approach to it would be a scale centering around D without any sharps or flats. Bach was influenced so much by the feeling for modern tonality that this toccata is practically in the familiar key of D minor.

Garth Edmundson In Modum Antiquum
Pax Vobiscum
Pastorale Ancienne
Benedictus
Cortege and Fanfare

A recent music critic has said of Edmundson, "There is something in this music that grips you and I am sure that in Mr. Edmundson we have a composer who will leave his mark on organ literature of the next decade."

George Frederic Handel Air from "Rinaldo"

The name of Handel brings to mind "The Messiah" and other oratorios, but Handel's earliest fame was gained as an opera composer. It was in 1719 that he went to England for the first time. He had just come from a triumphal tour of Italy and had just been appointed chapelmaster to the Elector of Hanover, who four years later became George I of England. Handel's fame had preceded him to London where the manager of the opera house asked him to write an opera. Handel agreed and in two weeks he had produced "Rinaldo," the first of a long series of operas written in England.

Max Reger Toccata in D Minor

Max Reger is a modern German composer who has composed much good organ music. He has used a style which might be called modern Bach. His works are very popular in Germany.

MISS ALDRIDGE, MRS. WARNER, MR. HOOPER, MR. HENDERSON

Behold! there shall be a day, when the watchman upon the mountain top shall cry aloud:

"Arise ye! Get ye up unto Mount Zion, unto the Lord your God!"

For thus saith the Lord: Fear not now, O Israel, neither be thou dismayed.

Refrain thine voice from weeping and thine eyes from tears;

For I, the Lord am with thee, and will save thee.

I have loved thee with everlasting love, and have redeemed thee.

Why cryest thou, why cryest thou in thine affliction?

Why mournest thou in nightly watches?

I have redeemed thee. Therefore thus saith the Lord:

Sing ye aloud with gladness! Thy mourning is turned into joy!

I, even I, have redeemed thee. Be glad and rejoice!

Thy sorrows now are ended, and great shall be thy peace. Rejoice!

Be glad and rejoice!

Then fear not, O Israel, Neither be thou still dismayed,

I have redeemed thee! Then fear not, O Israel.

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

There will be an organ recital Sunday afternoon, October 4, at 4:30 o'clock, in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist. Following is the program:

Johann Ludwig Krebs Short Prelude and Fugue in C Major

Johann Ludwig Krebs was one of the favorite pupils of Bach who was fond of saying, "He is the best crab (Krebs) in the brook (Bach)."

Johann Sebastian Bach

Pastorale

Andante

Andantino

Adagietto cantabile

Allegro moderato

From the most dramatic, from the most complicated polyphony, to the simplest, most soothing melody, Bach was the master. The Pastorale is one of the favorites of a simple nature. In the first movement the melody is answered by itself in the form of a canon. In the Adagietto one finds quite modern and dissonant harmonies, but all used smoothly and easily with a simple melody of great depth. The last movement adds sprightliness to the work.

Franz Schubert

Serenade

Contrast the extremely simple accompaniment of this melody with the richer harmonic and rhythmic Bach accompaniment.

Sigfrid Karg-Elert

Pastel, op. 92, no. 1

Modern harmonies which support unusual and vague melodies—and occasionally a wistful tune which strikes a note of sympathy. The mood of much of the modern idiom is melancholy.

Powell Weaver

The Squirrel

Light, tripping, dainty, chattering—a touch of Fall.

Cyril Jenkins

Dawn

When the dawn comes up like thunder!

MR. BROADHEAD TO GIVE ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital Sunday, October 11, at 4:30 p.m., in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Johann Sebastian Bach Prelude and Fugue in C Minor

The soft and slow, yet stately prelude does not give one much preparation for the more vigorous and catching fugue subject which follows. This is a four-voiced fugue beginning with the alto, answered in the soprano, then given out in the bass and answered in the tenor. The dramatic element is prominent; after being developed in various situations the fugue subject reappears in its original form in a colorful climax which brings the work to a close.

Leo Sowerby Madrigal

Strictly speaking a madrigal is a secular polyphonic piece for an unaccompanied chorus. Mr. Sowerby gives us his conception of a modern organ composition in the style of the sixteenth century.

Giuseppe Verdi Grand March from Aida

Verdi was one of the greatest of Italian composers of the nineteenth century, and Aida is his greatest opera.

Joseph Clokey

Clokey has let his California imagination paint in tones this gaudy, fitting creature of the night. Should one seek it in the chill of the desert's edge or in the dew of the mountain side?

Henri Mulet

Chapelle des Morts

A lone timid spire of the chapel of the dead juts above the rocks of the bleak island, cold, silent, deserted of the living.

Dezsö D'Antalfy

Sportive Fauns

In sharp contrast with the preceding number, one pictures here a brisk October afternoon, fields dotted with brilliant leaves, and a group of sportive fauns turning graceful ellipses as they gambol about.

Twilight Moth

MRS. BARNES

Lost in the night doth the heathen yet languish,
Languishing for morning the darkness to vanquish,
Plaintively sighing heaving a sigh full of anguish, Oh!
Christ is coming soon. He is coming soon
Sorrowing brother in darkness yet dwelling,
Dawned has the day of a radiance excelling,
Death's dreaded darkness forever dispelling,
Lo, Christ is coming soon.

Light o'er the land of the heathen is beaming, Rivers are streaming

Millions yet sigh for the Savior, redeeming.

Must he be vainly awaiting the morrow! Shall we, no light and no comfort him borrow!

Giving no heed to His burden of sorrow: oh, will not day come soon!

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist, for the organ recital to be given in the University Chapel, Sunday, October 25, at 4:30 p.m.:

Johann Sebastian Bach

Prelude and Fugue in C Minor

In comparison with the other Fugue in C Minor, played recently, this Fugue is simpler and easier to follow. The Prelude builds up to a good climax. The Fugue, with a gay subject, starts out softly and grows to another climax. The syncopations toward the end create a very pleasingly exciting effect.

George Frederic Handel Aria from The Tenth Concerto

Although not written originally as a part of this concerto, the Aria is usually played with it. In the eighteenth century different compositions of the same class had very little distinction, an overture was an overture and it made little difference which one of Handel's operas it was used with. They all sounded more or less alike and were not related to the rest of the opera. So, in this case, performers do not hesitate to use this Aria where it is suitable.

Sigfrid Karg-Elert

Legend

One would like more of a hint at the story of this legend, but the composer has given none but the title. The music itself is very suggestive, however, and each may create his own legend.

Jules Massenet

Meditation from Thaïs

Joseph Clokey

Mountain Sketches

Jagged Peaks in the Starlight
Wind in the Pine Trees
Canyon Walls

Clokey, the organist at Pomona College in California, has given the world many nature pictures. These three show the vivid contrasts of his homeland.

FACULTY OF LAW SCHOOL TO MEET

No angel visitant, no op'ning skies; But take the dimness of my soul away;
But take the dimness of my soul away.
Hast Thou not bid us love Thee, God and King?
All, all Thine own, soul, heart and strength and mind; I see Thy cross;
There teach my heart to cling; O let me seek Thee, and O let me find!
Teach me to love Thee, as Thine angels love, One holy passion filling all my frame;

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital Sunday afternoon, November 1, at 4:30 o'clock in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University organist:

Johann Sebastian Bach

Organ Concerto No. 1

Allegro

Grave

Presto

This concerto had its inspiration in a violin concerto by Johann Ernst, young nephew of the Duke of Weimer. One might call it an everlasting memorial to this young man who died at the age of nineteen.

The Grave is a lovely and well-known slow movement. The Presto is lively and gay, much more harmonic than polyphonic in nature and thus easier for our modern ears to comprehend than most of his works.

The versatility of Bach is always amazing. He has written some of the best organ and choral music ever produced. His orchestral works, considering the development of the instruments and the forms available in his period, were masterpieces. Although he did not attempt opera, most of his compositions show his intense emotional and dramatic nature. Bach is dull to those who are not willing to take the trouble to understand him. Acquaintance with a composer's works brings understanding and these in turn bring a proper appreciation. Musicians find that the more they hear of Bach, the better they understand and like him.

Richard Wagner

"Song to the Evening Star," from Tannhäuser

César Franck

Prelude, Fugue, and Variation

The variation is almost an exact copy of the prelude except for the faster moving figure in the left hand. The bold fugue lends admirable contrast to the more tender theme of the prelude.

Clarence Dickinson

Reverie

A sentimental melody made more sentimental by the chromaticism of the accompaniment.

Harry C. Banks, Jr.

Choral-Improvisation on "Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence"

The basis of this composition is the ancient Gregorian chant, "Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence." The melody is harmonized and elaborated by the composer. This practice was common in the eighteenth century and is still used effectively today.

Prayer

Anthem—Turn Back, O Man arr. Gustav Holst
ERNIE WINTON, STUDENT DIRECTOR

Turn back O Man, forswear thy foolish ways.
Old now is Earth, and none may count her days.
Yet thou, her child, whose head is crowned with flame,
Still wilt not hear thine inner God proclaim
"Turn back O Man, forswear thy foolish ways!"
Earth might be fair and all men glad and wise,
Age after age their tragic empires rise.
Built while they dream, and in that dreaming weep.
Would man but wake from out his haunted sleep
Earth might be fair and all men glad and wise
Earth shall be fair, and all her people one,
Nor till that hour shall God's whole will be done.
Now, even now, once more from earth to sky
Peals forth in joy man's old undaunted cry
"Earth shall be fair, and all her folk be one!"

Hymn—Come! Peace of God (Eventide) Menck

Scripture

Baritone Solo—Guns Geoffrey O'Hara
J. FOSTER BARNES

Hark, to the deep and rumbling roar, Shaking the earth with shot they pour.
From out the mouth of a ten inch bore, Sing the thund'ring guns.
Demons that paint the heavens red, Belching a flame of with'ring lead,
Blazing a trail through the countless dead, Sing the thund'ring guns.
Hark to the groans the carnage tells, Louder than screams of bursting shells,
While from the pits of a hundred hells, Howl the heartless guns.
Sightless or maimed, the few they spare; Crosses for those who linger there;
Row upon row, 'tis a harvest fair! Laugh the ghostly guns.
God of our prayers speed on the years, Until a world, vain glorious hears,
Sobs of a million mothers' tears, Echo from the guns.
Let Thy hand reach from shore to shore; Oh God of love for evermore,
Crush out the hatred curse of war. The guns, guns guns!

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital to be given in the University Chapel, Sunday, November 8, at 4:30 p.m., by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Johann Sebastian Bach Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring

This chorale tune arranged for the organ by Harvey Grace is one of the loveliest of Bach's melodies. It is calm, soothing, peaceful, and creates a depth of feeling more slowly arrived at but more satisfying than a more sentimental melody. This is a glimpse into the heart of Bach, the heart that he put into his work.

César Franck Fantaisie in A

Franck was a Belgian who spent the most of his life in Paris as organist at Ste. Clothilde. He was the founder and leader of the important French school of composers of the late nineteenth century. One finds his works illustrative of the French love of chromaticism, yet retaining the vigor and individuality essential to works of art.

William Faulkes Festival Prelude on "Ein' Feste Burg"

In the sixteenth century the German protestants began using chorales in their services of worship. The chorale has been used frequently since that time as the basis for more elaborate compositions. Bach wrote many. The original tune of "Ein Feste Burg" was composed by Martin Luther.

Pietro Yon *Rimembranza
Hymn of Glory*

Pietro Yon is organist at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City. Of Italian birth he is honorary organist at St. Peter's in Rome. Critics hail him as one of the outstanding concert organists today. He has written many attractive works for his instrument among which is the Hymn of Glory, dedicated to the American Legion.

This meeting will bring to a close the first year of the work of this organization. The contributions which its members have made in one form or another have demonstrated beyond doubt the great value of such a coöperative effort by the friends of the Library.

Professor Harvie Branscomb is secretary of the Friends of the Duke University Library.

Anthem—Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee Beethoven-Sanders

Joyful, joyful, we adore Thee, God of glory, God of love;
Hearts unfold like flowers before Thee
Praising Thee their sun above, Melt the clouds of sin and sadness;
Drive the dark of doubt away; Giver of immortal gladness,
Fill us with the light of day.
All Thy works with joy surround Thee, Earth and heav'n's reflect Thy rays,
Stars and angels sing around Thee, Centre of unbroken praise;
Field and forest, vale and mountain, Blooming meadow, flashing sea,
Chanting bird and flowing fountain, Call us to rejoice in Thee.
Thou art giving and forgiving, Ever blessing, ever blest,
Well-spring of the joy of loving, Ocean depth of happy rest!
Thou our Father, Christ our Brother, All who live in love are Thine:
Teach us how to love each other, Lift us to the joy divine.
Mortals join the mighty chorus, Which the morning stars began,
Father love is reigning o'er us, Brother love binds man to man.
Ever singing march we onward, Victors in the midst of strife;
Joyful music lifts us sunward In the triumph song of life,
In the triumph song of life.

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital to be given in the University Chapel, Sunday, November 15, at 4:30 o'clock, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Johann Sebastian Bach Prelude and Fugue in B Minor

The gracefulness of this prelude can scarcely be surpassed. Built of the first few notes the main theme keeps returning in many ways, pleasing in each new appearance, and finally attaining a small climax at the end. The emotions aroused are not exciting but soothing.

The fugue subject is very plain and excites little anticipation. The method of treatment is admirable, however, for with each repetition of the theme the emotional stimulus is greater. This is one of the best of Bach's larger organ works.

Guy Weitz Mater Dolorosa

Weitz is a contemporary English composer whose fame lies in the composition of the Symphony for Organ of which this is the second movement. It is very well written, modern; it grows with each hearing.

Nikolai Rimski-Korsakov Scheherazade

The modern American organ is built to be not only an organ in the original sense of the word, but to be an imitation of an orchestra. Thus, such a colorful orchestral work as this can be transcribed interestingly for the organ. This arrangement has been considerably abridged but retains almost all of the important themes.

Hendrik Andriessen Troisième Choral

Andriessen is an organist at Antwerp who has gained recognition in Europe and is just being discovered by American organists. The Third Chorale is one of his best works.

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital Sunday afternoon, November 22, at 4:30 o'clock, in the University Chapel:

Johann Sebastian Bach

Prelude and Fugue in E Minor

The Cathedral prelude and fugue well portrays the calm depth and serenity of Bach's faith. The fugue subject begins like a trumpet call which some have compared to the nightwatchman's reassuring notes; but others have likened it to the trumpet of judgment day.

Edward MacDowell

A Sea Song

One of the greatest of American composers was Edward MacDowell. More than anyone else he has sensed the American spirit, but perhaps more of the crisp New England sunniness than of the expansiveness of the West.

Philip James

Méditation à Ste. Clothilde

James is a contemporary American composer and conductor who has brought to us the haunting memory of Franck at the console of his organ at Ste. Clothilde in Paris. Although the soft Franck theme used here is from his symphony, undoubtedly this very theme echoed many times through that church during the organ-improvisations of this master-composer.

Clifford Demarest

A Pastorale Suite

Rustic Dance

Sunset

Thanksgiving

The Pastorale Suite is a group of contrasting moods: slowly awakening, gay and tripping, pensive, and joyous.

DR. E. STANLEY JONES TO PREACH IN DUKE UNIVERSITY CHAPEL FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 8:00 P.M.

Dr. E. Stanley Jones, one of the best known Christian leaders of today, who is delivering a series of sermons and addresses in various sections of the United States under the auspices of the National Preaching Mission, will speak in Duke University Chapel, Friday, November 27, at 8:00 p.m.

Dr. Jones, who is a native of Clarksville, Maryland, and received his education in the City College, Baltimore, and in Asbury College, began his active Christian service as a missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1907, commissioned then as the pastor of the English Church in the City of Lucknow, India, where he served in various capacities for ten years. He was appointed evangelist at large for the North India Annual Conference in 1917, which brought him in contact with outstanding leaders such as Mahatma Gandhi, Dr. Rabindranath Tagore, and Charles F. Andrews.

Among the dozen best selling religious books published since the beginning of the century, are "The Christ of the Indian Road," "Christ at the Round Table," "The Christ of the Mount," "The Christ of Every Road," written by Dr. Jones. He has also written a new book for the National Preaching Mission.

PRESENT SERIES OF TEMPORARY EXHIBITIONS

The Art Association of Duke University is continuing its policy of presenting, for the enjoyment and education of the community, a varied series of temporary exhibitions. The twenty exhibitions last year were made possible through contributions of funds and services by its members, individual exhibitors, and organizations interested in its work. All of the exhibitions are free to the public except on opening nights and during gallery talks. At such times members of the Association and students registered in the Department of Fine Arts will be admitted without charge; others in payment of a nominal fee.

The first in the series on display until November 24, is a collection of maps dating from the end of the 18th century, which has been supplemented by reproductions of several important Medieval maps. This affords an excellent survey of the development of this art down to modern times. Also, at this time there is to be an exhibition of early miniatures of the Carolinas, which has been loaned by the Gibbs Memorial Gallery, in Charleston, S. C.

How goodly are Thy tents, O Jacob.
O Lord, I love the place of Thy house, and the abode in which Thy glory dwelleth.
And so I bow down, adore Thee, O God, O God, my maker.
May my pray'r be offer'd in an acceptable time.
Mayest Thou in the greatness of Thy mercy answer me according to Thy faithfulness.
O Lord, I love the place of Thy house.
How goodly are Thy tents, O Jacob, Thy tabernacles, O Israel,

O come to my heart, Lord Jesus! There is room in my heart for Thee.
The foxes found rest, and the birds had their nest
In the shade of the forest tree;
But Thy couch was the sod, O Thou Son of God, In the desert of Galilee.
Oh, come to my heart, Lord Jesus, There is room in my heart for Thee.
When the heavens shall ring, and the angels shall sing
At Thy coming to victory! Let Thy voice call me home, saying
"Yet, there is room, there is room at My side for Thee."
And my heart shall rejoice, Lord Jesus,
When Thou comest and callest for me.
Oh, come to my heart Lord Jesus.
There is room in my heart for Thee.

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital Sunday afternoon, January 10, at 4:30 o'clock in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Alexandre Pierre Francois Boëly Fantaisie and Fugue in B flat
Amongst musicians of his epoch (1785-1858) Boëly's position was isolated, unofficial, and his music almost ignored. Admired by younger artists who never sought his help in vain, he acquainted them at the organ of his church, St. Germain l'Auxerrois, with the works of J. S. Bach, an innovation at that time.

Karl Stamitz Andante

This is a slow movement from one of Stamitz's seventy symphonies. Karl (1746-1801) was a son of Johann Anton Stamitz, famous director of the Mannheim orchestra, the first orchestra known internationally. The earliest symphonies were written for the Mannheim group which greatly influenced Mozart upon his visit to it in 1778.

Camille Saint-Saëns The Swan

The Carnival of the Animals, of which suite The Swan is a part, was composed for a Mardi-Gras concert, and was played in its entirety for the first time in this country in August, 1922 at Chicago.

Leo Sowerby Carillon

Of the many compositions for the modern organ Sowerby has written some of the best and most charming. He is a young composer and teacher in Chicago.

Alexandre Guilmant Third Sonata

Prelude
Adagio
Fuga

This lecture is given primarily for students in electrical engineering, but the general public will find it of considerable interest.

Rise, crowned with light, imperial Salem rise!
Exalt Thy towering head and lift thine eyes!
See, heav'n its sparkling portals wide display,
And break upon thee in a flood of day!
See a long race Thy spacious courts adorn;
See future sons and daughters yet unborn In crowding ranks on every side arise

Demanding life, impatient for the skies.
Rise, crowned with light, imperial Salem rise!
Exalt Thy towering head and lift thine eyes!
See heav'n its sparkling portals wide display,
And break upon thee in a flood of Glorious things of thee are spoken Zion, City of our God;

Rocks fall to dust, and mountains melt away.
But fixed His word, His saving power remains; Thy realm shall last,
Thy own Messiah reigns. Glorious things of thee are spoken, Zion, City of our God;

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist, has arranged the following program for the organ recital in the University Chapel, Sunday, January 17, at 4:30 p.m.:

Franz Peter Schubert

Prayer

Symphony in B Minor

Allegro moderato

Andante con moto

Franz Peter Schuhert (1797-1828) was the son of a school teacher in one of the suburbs of Vienna. His only musical training was received from his father from whom he learned the violin, and from Salieri at the court school for the chapel choir in which he sang until his voice broke. In 1817 after three unhappy years of teaching in an elementary school, he devoted his whole time to music but never succeeded in obtaining a post which would make him secure. He lived, with the help of friends, a precarious but characteristically Viennese existence until his death in 1828 at the early age of thirty-one.

Handicapped by his lack of training and his poverty, he expressed his genius in a wealth of lyric beauty. It is as a composer of songs that Schubert is remembered. Even his two great symphonies, the C Major and the Unfinished in B Minor, are the essence of romantic song.

The Unfinished symphony was composed six years before the artist's death and is probably his greatest masterpiece. The classical number of movements for a symphony in Schubert's day was four; this work has only two. In this sense only may it be called incomplete.

When wilt Thou save the people? O God of mercy, when?

Their heritage a sunless day. God save the people!

Shall crime bring crime forever, Strength aiding still the strong?

Is it Thy will, O Father, That man shall toil for wrong?

"No," say Thy mountains; "No," Thy skies;

Man's clouded sun shall brightly rise, And songs ascend, instead of sighs,

God save the people! When wilt Thou save the people?

O God of mercy when? The people, Lord, the people,

Not thrones and crowns, but men!

God save the people; Thine they are, Thy children as Thine angels fair,

From vice, oppression, and despair, God save the people!

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital Sunday afternoon, January 24, at 4:30 o'clock, in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Robert Schumann

Sketch in F Minor

Although not an organist, Schumann wrote several works for an instrument similar to the organ, the pedal-piano. Readily adaptable to the organ, they include four sketches which are full of vigor and life.

Russell Hancock Miles (arr.)

Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes

Years ago Ben Johnson wrote the poem called "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," and it was set to music by some unknown composer. Mr. Miles has used this anonymous tune for his modern arrangement.

Guy Weitz

Symphony

Regina Pacis

Mater Dolorosa

Stella Maris

Guy Weitz (pronounced Weets) was born in 1883 at Verviers, Belgium. After having received training at the Liège conservatory he went to Paris where he did further organ study under Guilmant and worked at composition with d'Indy and Widor. During the war he went to England where he has become associated with the English group of organists and composers. He is a naturalized Englishman and proud of his adopted country. Since 1917 he has been organist at the Jesuit Church of the Immaculate Conception in London. He has been a frequent guest at the console of the organ in Westminster Cathedral.

Americans began to hear of Mr. Weitz when his organ symphony was published here in 1932. Since that time this work has become very popular among organists—especially the "Mater Dolorosa."

"GOLGOTHA"

A preview showing of "Golgotha," one of the most unusual motion pictures of recent years, is to be given at Duke University on Monday and Tuesday, January 25 and 26, in Page Auditorium. The first of the three showings will be given on Monday night, at 8:30 o'clock; there will be other showings on Tuesday afternoon and night. Admission prices are: children, 25c; adults, 50c; reserved mezzanine seats, 75c.

The film, depicting the last days of the earthly life of Christ, was produced in France about a year ago, and for ten months played continuously in Paris. It will be shown for the first time in New York, beginning on February 15, at Forty-fourth Street Theatre. The American version of the picture, which differs in dialogue only from the French version, was completed less than a month ago. As a background to the film, some of the world's most inspired music is played by the 120-piece Paris Symphony Orchestra.

PROFESSOR E. K. PLYLER TO ADDRESS PHYSICS COLLOQUIUM FRIDAY, JANUARY 29

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program for the organ recital to be given Sunday afternoon, January 31, at 4:30 o'clock, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Henry Purcell

Bell Symphony

When master of the choristers of Westminster Abbey, Henry Purcell wrote this symphony, using the descending scale in the pedal part to imitate the Abbey chimes.

Joseph Bonnet

Variations de Concert

This set of variations on a choral-like theme is introduced by a few brilliant chords. The first variation is dainty and ethereal, the second strong and robust, the third melodic, and the last heavy and brilliant. The coda after the final variation recalls the flashing chords of the introduction.

César Franck

Chorale in B Minor

The group of three chorales, of which this is the second, was the last of the important compositions of this great French organist and composer. It is interesting to compare this superb treatment of a chorale theme with the methods of Bonnet. Franck is the father of modern French music.

Modeste Moussorgsky

Un Larme

This is a delicate and whimsical picture of a tear falling, cold iridescent, from some modern Mona Lisa.

Zdenko Fibich

Poème

Henri Mulet

Tu Es Petra

"Thou art the Rock and the Gates of Hell Shall not Prevail Against Thee."

"GROWTH AND SANITY IN RELIGION", DR. ROWE'S SUBJECT

"Growth and Sanity in Religion" will be the subject of the sermon to be delivered by Dr. Gilbert T. Rowe, at the University Service of Worship on Sunday, January 31, at 11:00 a.m.

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program that has been arranged for the organ recital Sunday afternoon, February 14, at 4:30 o'clock, in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Johann Sebastian Bach Prelude and Fugue in B flat Major

This is one of the most charming of the "Eight Short Preludes and Fugues." The Prelude has an interesting fast-moving subject which soon appears in the pedal. In contrast to the duple meter of the Prelude, the Fugue is developed in a gray triple rhythm marked giocoso.

Christoph Willibald Gluck

Andante from "Orfeo"

"Orfeo" is one of the earliest operas written in the style which we like and understand today. When it was produced in Paris in 1762, however, it was so very different from the then usual Neapolitan style of opera that it was heartily disliked. Only after one of the fiercest and most dramatic battles in musical history was the new style accepted. It laid the foundation for the great masterpieces of Mozart, Wagner, and Debussy.

Joseph W. Clokey

Dripping Spring

Mily Balakirew

Chanson

Balakirew was one of the nationalists who created a Russian school of music in the latter part of the nineteenth century. There is available to this group all the vast and wealthy store of folk-song, some of it tinged with an oriental flavor.

Charles Marie Widor

Symphonie IV

Tocatta

Andante Cantabile

Scherzo

Finale

Widor is one of the veterans of organ-playing in Paris today. His style is direct and simple, characteristic of the beginning of this century. His fame as a composer rests largely on his organ symphonies.

The Fourth Symphony contains six movements, of which these are representative. Especially characteristic of Widor are the lovely and familiar Andante cantabile and the dainty, tripping Scherzo.

Organ—Mein Jesu, was für Seelenweh

Call To Worship—O Thou, Who Hearest

Atkinson

O Thou, who hearest every heart-felt prayer,
With Thy rich grace, Lord, all our hearts prepare,
Thou art our life, Thou art our love and light,
O let this Sabbath hour with Thee be bright. Amen.

Hymn—Holy, Holy, Holy

(Nicaea) Dykes

Prayer

Anthem—Magnificat and Gloria Patri

P. C. Lutkin

My soul doth magnify the Lord, and my spirit hath rejoiced in God, my Saviour.

For He hath regarded the lowliness of His hand-maiden,
For behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed,
For He that is mighty, hath magnified me, and holy is His Name.
And His mercy is on them that fear Him throughout all generations.

He hath shewed strength with His arm.
He hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.
He hath put down the mighty from their seat, and hath exalted the humble and meek.

He hath filled the hungry with good things; and the rich He hath sent empty away.

He, remembering His mercy hath holpen His servant, Israel, as He promised to our forefathers, Abraham and his seed forever.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost,
As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Hymn—O Jesus Thou Art Standing

(St. Hilda) Knecht-Husband

Scripture

Anthem—Cherubim Song

Tschaikowsky

Like a choir of mighty angels, solemn bending low the knee.

To the life bestowing Trinity.

Do we raise our song, raise our song and praise,

Do we raise our thrice holy song and praise.

Now do we drive far away from our thoughts today, all earthly care. Amen.

Like a King of all shall we raise Thee.

Hallowed Host from angels veiled, we hail Thy consecration.
Alleluia!

Sermon—"The Temptation of Jesus" Bishop Edwin A. Penick

Response By Choir—

Poteat

The Lord bless thee and keep thee; The Lord make His face to shine upon thee and be gracious unto thee;

The Lord lift up His countenance upon thee and give thee peace.
Amen.

Organ—Prelude and Fugue in A Minor

Bach

ORGAN RECITAL

The following program will be rendered at the Organ Recital to be given Sunday afternoon, February 21, in the University Chapel by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Johann Sebastian Bach

Fugue in G Minor

To distinguish this from the great G minor fugue, this one is called the Swiss fugue, or merely the "Little G Minor." As a polyphonic composition it is well wrought and polished as only Bach could do.

Sigfrid Karg-Elert

Saluto Angelico

The real name of this modern German composer was Karg. The Elert was added early in his career at the suggestion of his concert agent. His creative output, a very large one, includes a wide variety of musical forms; however, his true medium of expression is the organ. Karg-Elert possesses great harmonic resources, an easy mastery of contrapuntal devices, a strong feeling for tone color, and decided originality—all of which qualities have lent a wide and deserved esteem to his musical creations

Manuel de Falla

Pantomime
Récit du Pêcheur

The works of this contemporary Spanish composer are fast gaining popularity. De Falla himself lives the life of a recluse, devoting his entire time to musical composition.

El Amor Brujo, from which these numbers are taken, is one of his attractive suites for orchestra.

Nikolai Rimski-Korsakov

Flight of the Bumble-Bee

A picturesque flight of Russian fancy from the composer's opera, The Tale of the Tsar Saltan.

Ralph Vaughan Williams

Rhosymedre

Vaughan Williams is a contemporary English composer whose self-evolved style has sprung from the thematic and rhythmic influences of the folk-song. This melody is an old Welsh tune the title of which is translated, Lovely.

Enrico Bossi

Meditation in a Cathedral

This modern Italian composer, who lost his life at the sinking of the Titanic during the World War, is best known for his organ compositions. The Meditation casts all of the indefinable charm of a great cathedral and gives voice to the ineffable peace, the suffusion of inspiration, and the mighty grandeur of such a place of worship.

(It is suggested to those attending the recital that the organ can be heard best toward the front of the nave).

PROFESSOR PAUL TILlich TO DELIVER TWO LECTURES AT DUKE

Professor Paul Tillich, of the Union Theological Seminary, New York City, will give two lectures at Duke University, on Tuesday, February 23, and Wednesday, February 24. Both will be in Room 210, School of Religion, at 4:00 p.m. The subject of the first lecture will be "The Religious Outlook on Contemporary Civilization", and in the second he will discuss "The Significance for Religion and Social Ethics of the Totalitarian Theory of the State".

Professor Tillich is visiting Professor at Union Theological Seminary in New York. He was formerly Privat Dozent of Theology in Halle and Berlin; Professor of the Science of Religion in Dresden and at the same time Professor Honorarius of Theology in Leipzig; Professor Ordinarius of Philosophy in Frankfurt-on-the-Main.

Professor Tillich is the author of many books, the latest of which are "The Religious Situation" and "The Interpretation of History."

Since coming to America he has delivered lectures at Chicago, Harvard, and Yale Universities. As Visiting Professor at Union Theological Seminary his lectures are attracting many of the most outstanding students in America.

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program that has been arranged for the organ recital Sunday afternoon, February 28, at 4:30 o'clock, in the University Chapel by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Johann Sebastian Bach Fugue in G Minor

To distinguish this from the great G minor fugue, this one is called the Swiss fugue, or merely the "Little G Minor." As a polyphonic composition it is well wrought and polished as only Bach could do.

Sigfrid Karg-Elert Saluto Angelico

Manuel de Falla Pantomime
Récit du Pêcheur

The works of this contemporary Spanish composer are fast gaining popularity. De Falla himself lives the life of a recluse, devoting his entire time to musical composition.

El Amor Brujo, from which these numbers are taken, is one of his attractive suites for orchestra.

Nikolai Rimski-Korsakov Flight of the Bumble-Bee
A picturesque flight of Russian fancy from the composer's opera, The Tale of the Tsar Saltan.

Ralph Vaughan Williams Rhosymedre
Vaughan Williams is a contemporary English composer whose self-evolved style has sprung from the thematic and rhythmic influences of the folk-song. This melody is an old Welsh tune the title of which is translated, Lovely.

Enrico Bossi

Meditation in a Cathedral

This modern Italian composer, who lost his life at the sinking of the Titanic during the World War, is best known for his organ compositions. The Meditation casts all of the indefinable charm of a great cathedral and gives voice to the ineffable peace, the suffusion of inspiration, and the mighty grandeur of such a place of worship.

(It is suggested to those attending the recital that the organ can be heard best toward the front of the nave).

Anthem—When Wilt Thou Save the People?

When wilt Thou save the people? O God of mercy, when?
Not kings and lords, but nations!
Not thrones and crowns, but men!
Flow'rs of Thy heart, O God are they:
Let them not pass, like weeds away.
Their heritage a sunless day. God save the people!
Shall crime bring crime forever,
Strength aiding still the strong?
Is it Thy will, O Father, That man shall toil for wrong?
"No," say Thy mountains; "No," Thy skies;
Man's clouded sun shall brightly rise,
And songs ascend, instead of sighs.
God save the people! When wilt Thou save the people?
O God of mercy, when? The people, Lord, the people,
Not thrones and crowns, but men!
God save the people; Thine they are, Thy children as Thine angels fair;
From vice, oppression, and despair, God save the people!

CATHERINE RITCHEY MILLER TO BE GUEST ORGANIST AT ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Catherine Ritchey Miller, artist—pupil of Leslie P. Spelman, head of the music department of Meredith College, will give an organ recital Sunday afternoon, March 7, at 4:30 o'clock, in the University Chapel.

Mrs. Miller, who has studied under Joseph Bonnet, of Paris, with Miss Pauline Voorhees, of New Haven, Conn., is a member of the American Guild of Organists. She also served as organist of the Presbyterian Church, in Moscow, Idaho. Aside from her musical studies, Mrs. Miller holds an A.B. degree from Reed College, Portland, Oregon, and an M.A. degree from the University of Montana.

Following is Mrs. Miller's program:

Johann Sebastian Bach

Prelude and Fugue in A Minor

Begun in his earlier years, the A minor is one of the organ compositions on which Bach worked the longest. It combines the vitality of his first conception of the theme with the serene mastery of his maturity.

Girolamo Frescobaldi

Toccata per l'Elevazione

A forerunner of Bach, Frescobaldi (1583-1643) was of the Italian school. This example of his work is not the brilliant form we usually associate with a toccata. Written for the Mass, it is essentially religious music.

Louis Nicolas Clérambault

Prelude

Clérambault (1676-1749) was of the early French school. This living composition is from a Suite.

Johann Pachelbel

Toccata

Pachelbel (1653-1706) was of the early German school. He was the teacher of Christoph Bach, an elder brother and teacher of the great Johann Sebastian Bach.

Joseph Bonnet

Bereuse

Ariel

Variations de Concert

Joseph Bonnet, eminent French organist of today, is well-known in this country as a composer as well as a performer and teacher. The Variations de Concert has been used as a test piece by the American Guild of Organists and by the Royal College of Organists. It consists of a theme and four variations.

Following is the order of service:

DR. ELBERT RUSSELL, Presiding

Organ—Sarabande Corelli
Call to Worship—O Thou, Who Hearest Atkinson

O Thou, who hearest every heart-felt prayer,
With Thy rich grace, Lord, all our hearts prepare,
Thou art our life, Thou art our love and light,
O let this Sabbath hour with Thee be bright. Amen.

Prayer

Duet—From "The Seven Last Words of Christ" Dubois
MR. GRAY, Tenor

O Lord, remember me, when Thou comest into Thy kingdom.

Hymn—In the Cross of Christ I Glory (Rathbun) Conkey
Scripture

Anthem—Go to Dark Gethsemane T. Tertius Noble

Go to dark Gethsemane, Ye that feel the tempter's pow'r;
Your Redeemer's conflict see, Watch with Him one bitter hour,
Turn not from His griefs away, Learn of Jesus Christ to pray.
Follow to the judgment-hall; View the Lord of life arraigned;
Oh the wormwood and the gall! Oh the pangs His soul sustained!
Turn not from His griefs away, Learn of Jesus Christ to pray.
Follow to the judgment-hall; View the Lord of life arraigned;
Oh the wormwood and the gall! Oh the pangs His soul sustained!
Turn not from His griefs away, Learn of Jesus Christ to pray.
Shun not suffering shame, or loss,
Learn of Him to bear the Cross.
Calvary's mournful mountain climb; There, adoring at His feet,
Mark the miracle of time, God's own sacrifice complete.
"It is finished!" hear Him cry; Learn of Jesus Christ to die. Amen.

Sermon—"Justifiable Expectation" Dr. Rufus M. Jones,
Professor of Philosophy Emeritus, Haverford College

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program that has been arranged for the organ recital Sunday, March 14, at 4:30 p.m., in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Johann Sebastian Bach Prelude and Fugue in A Minor
This is known as the "Little A Minor Prelude and Fugue" to distinguish it from the longer one of the same name. It is perhaps one of the eight heard less frequently than most but possesses a great deal of vitality.

César Franck Chorale in E Major
Franck spent his youth in training for piano virtuosity in obedience to earnest parental pressure. Only after a severe break with his father was he freed to devote his talents to his supreme forte, musical composition. During his lifetime his works received deplorably little recognition. In fact, his first unqualified public success took place in the last year of his life.

The chorale in E is the first of a group of three chorales which are considered Franck's best organ compositions.

Cyril Scott

Over the Prairie
Evening Idyll

Cyril Scott, a contemporary English composer, has maintained individuality, even to the point of idiosyncrasy and mechanical mannerism, rather than to imitate the greatest models of his day. These two short selections are transcribed for organ from the piano score by A. E. Hull.

Nikolai Rimski-Korsakov

Fantasia from Scheherazade

This symphonic suite evidences its composer's distinct preference for the freer forms of programme music, as well as his poetic expression of national feeling. His art is deeply rooted in Russian soil. Scheherazade lends itself gracefully to choreographic interpretation, being intensely colorful and dramatic in its nature.

Lynnwood Farnam

Toccata on "O Filii et Filiae"

The late Lynnwood Farnam, of Canadian birth, is considered one of America's greatest organists. He was associated with the Church of the Holy Communion in New York and with the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia.

Dr. Opdyke, though for years a mining engineer, has devoted the past years of his life to the study of art appreciation. His book, "Art and Nature Appreciation", is a clear and lucid philosophy of art and is of great service to the layman in his approach to the problems of the Fine Arts.

Dr. Opdyke is known as a brilliant and popular lecturer. His lecture next Thursday night should have an appeal to anyone interested in pictures.

THE GARDENS AND PLANTATIONS OF THE CAROLINA LOW COUNTRY A Tour—March 31-April 4

In the Low Country of the Carolinas there are many visible evidences of what was once America's most colorful agricultural civilization. Especially beautiful during the spring of the year are the flowers and cypress trees of the gardens and the old plantations with their groves of trees hung with Spanish moss.

The Low Country exhibits the Old South, but it exhibits also the economic and social changes through which much of the remainder of the South is perhaps destined to go.

A tour through the area has been arranged during our spring vacation. In making up the party Sociology and other Social Science students will be given preference but other members of the University community are invited to join if additional space is available. The cost of the trip, to include all expenses except possibly one meal in Charleston, is $28.50 per person.

Leaving Durham Wednesday afternoon, March 31, and returning Sunday afternoon, April 4, the tour will cover the following itinerary (tentative in some respects):

1. Hartsville, S. C. Here the party will visit the plantation and garden of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Coker. Mr. Coker is perhaps the leading scientific planter of the Southeast.

2. Mulberry Plantation, one of the oldest.

3. Summerville, S. C. Summerville is itself a garden. Here Mr. James C. Derieux, formerly with the Resettlement Administration, will discuss with us some of the economic and social problems of the Low Country. Perhaps a visit to the tea plantation.

4. Middleton Place Gardens. "Oldest Landscape Gardens in America."

5. Beaufort, S. C. In the evening the members of the Duke party are invited to the Easter Community Dance. The following day, in automobiles furnished by the Beaufort Rotary Club, we visit Penn School on St. Helena Island peopled by Gullah Negroes of quaint speech and lore. Later in the day we visit Tomotley, Brewton, Twickenham, Hobonney, and Bonney Hall plantations. Picnic lunch on one of these plantations.

6. Charleston, S. C. We arrive in time to view a dress parade at the Citadel. In the evening a dance for the Duke students, Citadel and College of Charleston seniors at the Francis Marion Hotel. The next morning after a bus tour around the city, possibly a visit to Fort Sumter, members of the party will be free to explore Charleston as they wish.

7. Cypress Gardens and riverside picnic.

8. Fayetteville, N. C. A visit to the State Normal School for Negroes. After dinner at the institution there will be a program arranged by President J. W. Seabrook.

An exhibit of pictures and books illustrating the tour is being shown on the second floor of the library, West Camps.

On Monday evening, March 29, at 7:30 in Room 210, School of Religion, Dr. Mason Crum will give an illustrated lecture on "The Gullah Negroes of the Carolina Low Country".

The party will be limited to 50. Reservations made after a deposit of $5.00 and no reservations made after 2:00 P.M. Monday, March 29. See Dr. Edgar T. Thompson or Mr. W. H. Roney, 306 Library, or call L-5024.

Holy Holy Holy, Lord God of Hosts
Heav'n and earth are full of thy majesty, of the majesty of thy Glory, full of the majesty of thy glory.
Holy Holy Holy.
Hosanna, hosanna, hosanna in the highest
Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord.

Baritone Solo—The Cross Harriet Ware
Soloist

DON CORRELL
Oh friend, we never choose the better part,
Until we set the Cross up in the heart.
I know I cannot live until I die,
Till I am nailed upon it wild and high,
And sleep in the tomb for a full three days dead,
With angels at the feet and head.
But then, in a great brightness shall I arise,
To walk with stiller feet below the skies.
Oh friend, we never choose the better part,
Until we set the Cross up in the heart.

Hymn—Into the Woods My Master Went (Lanier) Lutkin
Scripture

Anthem—Ride On! Ride On! Van Denman Thompson
Ride on! ride on in majesty!
Hark! all the tribes hosanna cry; Ride on!
With palms and scatter'd garments strewed.
Ride on! ride on in majesty! In lowly pomp ride on to die;

O Christ, thy triumphs now begin. Ride on! ride on in majesty!
The winged squadrons of the sky Look down with sad and wond'ring eyes

To see th'approaching sacrifice.

Thy last and fiercest strife is nigh; The Father on his throne
Expects his own anointed Son. Ride on! Ride on in majesty!

Ride on! Ride on! In lowly pomp ride on to die;

Bow thy meek head, thy head to mortal pain,

Then take, O God, thy pow'r, and reign.

O Christ, thy triumphs now begin. Ride on, ride on, ride on!

Hail, O Virgin most pure, rejoice,
Thy Son is ris'n, is risen from the tomb on the third day as He said, and all the dead are ris'n through Him.
All peoples of the earth, rejoice; new Jerusalem, receive the light, for the glory of the Lord is ris'n upon thee:
Chant songs of joy, O Zion. And thou, O Mary, most pure mother of God; rejoice in the resurrection of thy Son.

Christ the Lord is ris'n again; Christ hath broken ev'ry chain;
Hark! Angelic voices cry, Singing evermore on high, Alleluia!
He, Who gave for us His life, Who for us endured the strife,
Is our Paschal Lamb today; We too sing for joy, and say Alleluia!
He, who bore our pain and loss Comfortless upon the Cross,
Lives in glory now on high, Pleads for us, and hears our cry;
Alleluia!
Hymns of praise then let us sing Unto Christ our heav'nly King,
Who endured the cross and grave, Sinners to redeem and save.
Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia! A-men.

Richard Wagner

Prelude to Parsifal

Parsifal is Wagner's last music-drama, based on mediaeval legends, one of which was by the Minnesinger, Wolfram von Eschenbach (1204). The story comes from Arthurian mythology and has as its subject the Holy Grail. Here is a drama on the redemption of man, narrated by music which occasionally reaches a loftiness equalled only by Bach's B Minor Mass.

KREOLITE FLOORS

Under the Feet of Mechanical Giants

In the plants where machinery is built the flooring problem is no less important than in the great plants where the machinery is operated.

It can truly be said that machinery is born on Kreolite and lives out its life of usefulness on Kreolite End Grain Wood Block Flooring. There are 2,622,672 square feet of Kreolite—over 60 acres—in machinery manufacturing plants alone. There are over 100,000,000 square feet of Kreolite laid in the plants of all industries. So universal and unanimous is the preference for Kreolite End Grain Wood Block Flooring that it has long since become "The Floor of Industrial America."

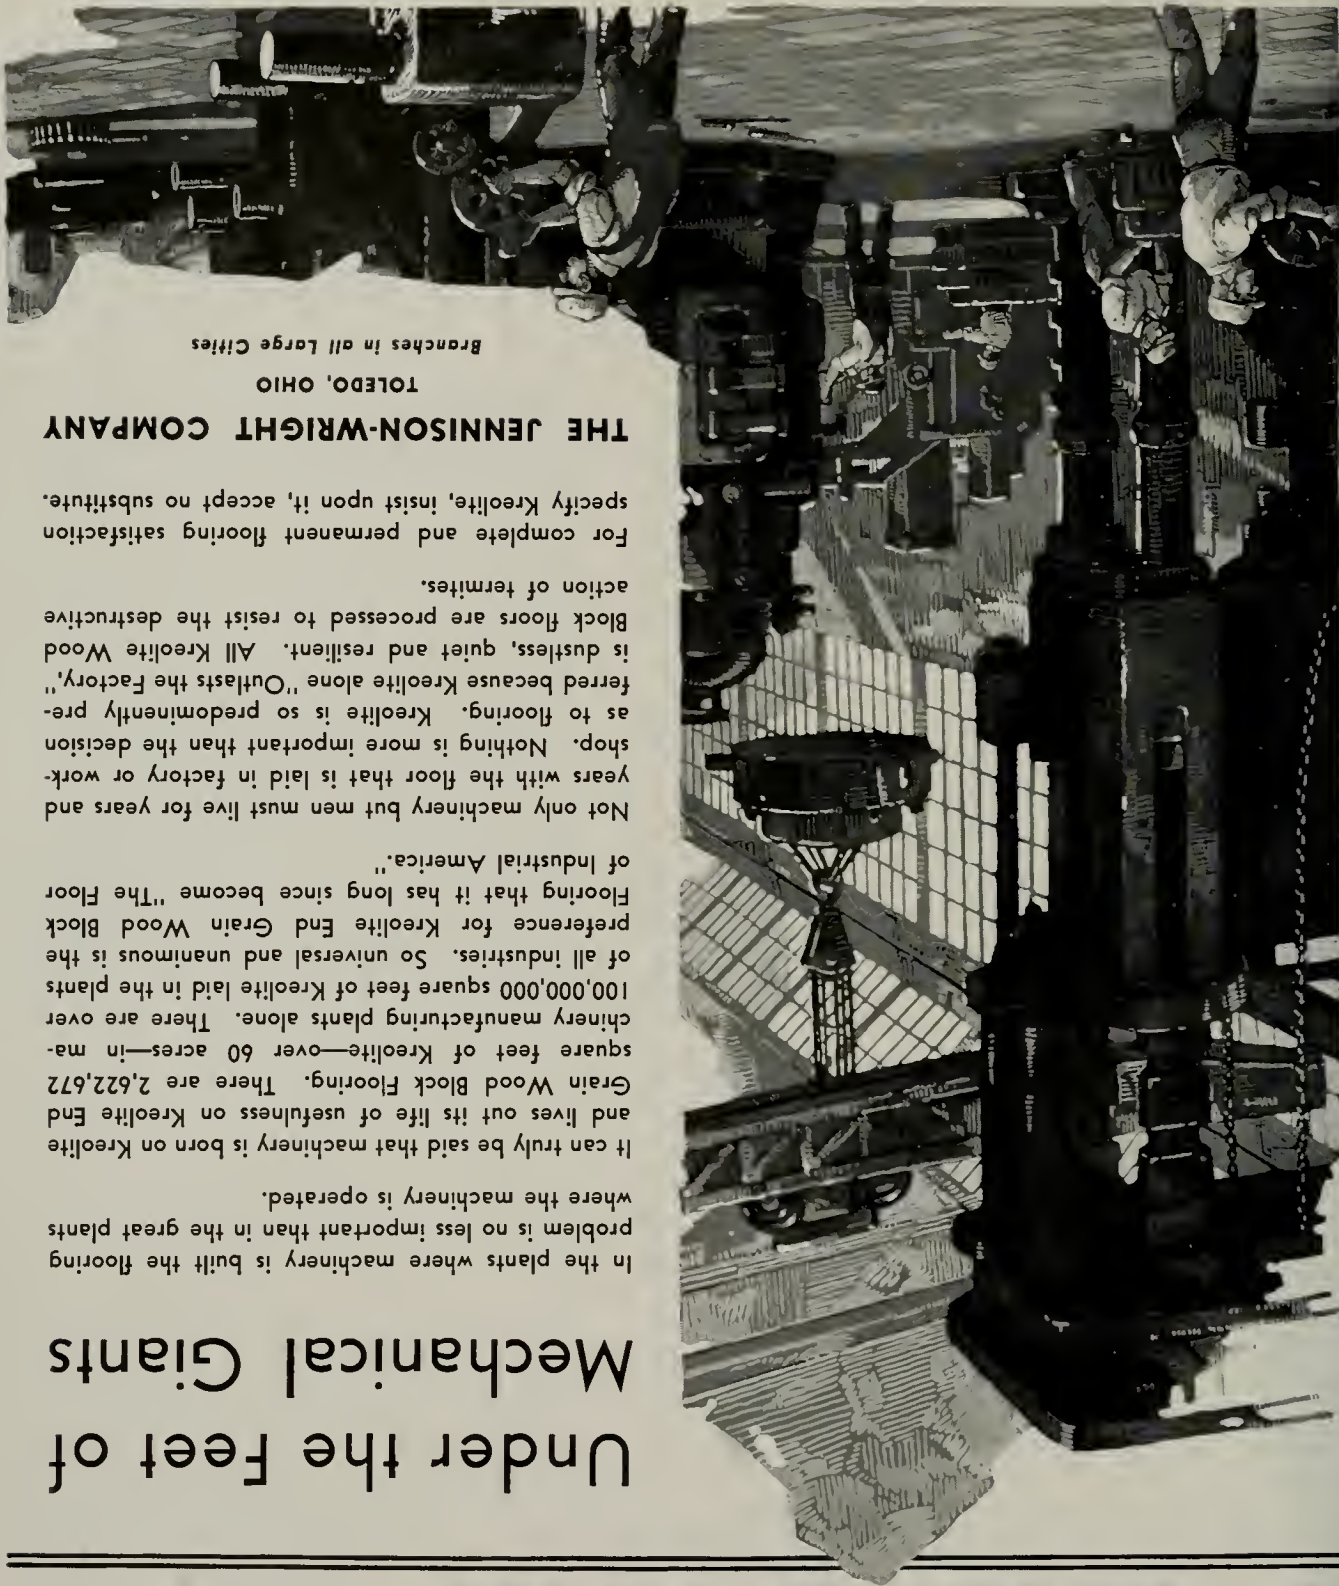

Not only machinery but men must live for years and years with the floor that is laid in factory or workshop. Nothing is more important than the decision as to flooring. Kreolite is so predominantly preferred because Kreolite alone "Outlasts the Factory," is dustless, quiet and resilient. All Kreolite Wood Block floors are processed to resist the destructive action of termites.

For complete and permanent flooring satisfaction specify Kreolite, insist upon it, accept no substitute.

Keeping construction on schedule—frequently even the safety of human life—depends on unfailing compressor service, and the advantages of modern compressor design are winning constantly increasing appreciation. Manufacturers of electric compressors have been alert to opportunities for improving the service range of their machines. The last several years particularly have witnessed outstanding developments. New metals and alloys have vastly improved wear and corrosion resistance. Where necessary, weight has been reduced. New bearings and lubrication designs assure long haul dependable service. LUBRICATION at each point of contact in wire rope is of equal importance to that in any complicated machine.* It reduces external wear, prevents corrosion, cuts down internal friction and enables each strand to move freely — all of which result in increased useful life.

Every wire of American Tiger Brand Wire Rope is carefully lubricated. This adds vitality to the flexibility of the rope, enabling it to withstand the terrific jerks of starting and stopping.

This lubrication is the result of years of engineering and field experience and is but one of the many different features which make American Tiger Brand Wire Rope a profitable investment for you. American Tiger Brand Wire Rope is available in either Standard (non-preformed) or Excellay (preformed) constructions.

*Machine? Absolutely, wire rope is a machine, and needs lubrication like any other. It fits perfectly the dictionary definition, "Any combination of mechanism for utilizing or applying power."

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program for the organ recital Sunday afternoon, April 11, at 4:30 o'clock, in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

César Franck

Fantaisie in A

Perhaps no other composer's arrival at creative maturity can be dated so exactly as Franck's. Almost all of the works by which he is known today were produced after his fiftieth year. Franck's compositions were throughout his lifetime entirely unappreciated by a public to whom the musical forms into which his work was cast were unfamiliar and unappealing. "A maturity spent as a successful musician in the public eye might have produced music more varied in character and universal in appeal; it could hardly have given us much of greater depth and beauty."—GROVE.

Felix Mendelssohn

Sixth sonata

Chorale and variations

Fugue

Finale

It was this composer's strange doctrine that "Notes have as definite a meaning as words, perhaps even a more definite one." To him music is not too indefinite to be put into words, but too definite, for "words are susceptible to a variety of meanings, while music has only one."

Richard Wagner

Liebested from Tristan and Isolde

This thrilling aria plumbs the depths of human experience, touching all its tragedy and ultimately redeeming beauty. Death may seize upon the bodies of the lovers, but their love will still endure in a mystic world beyond life.

Henri Mulet

Carillon-Sortie

Mulet is a contemporary French composer and organist who has written many descriptive works of merit.

Processional—Holy, Holy, Holy (Nicaea) Dykes

Prayer

Triple Quartet—Spirit of God Humason
Soloists

MR. MACKIE, MISS ALDRIDGE, MR. HOOPER

Spirit of God! descend upon my heart;
Wean it from earth, thro' all its pulses move;
Stoop to my weakness, mighty as Thou art,
And make me love Thee as I ought to love.
I ask no dream, no prophet ecstasies,
No sudden rending of the veil of clay,
No angel visitant, no op'ning skies;
But take the dimness of my soul away.
Hast Thou not bid us love Thee, God and King?
All, all Thine own, soul, heart and strength and mind;
I see Thy cross; there teach my heart to cling;
O let me seek Thee, and O let me find!
Teach me to love Thee, as Thine angels love,
One holy passion filling all my frame;
The kindling of the heav'n descended Dove.
My heart an altar, and Thy love the flame. A-men.

Hymn—Dear Lord and Father of Mankind (Elton) Maker

Scripture

Anthem—Praise the Lord Franck-Sowerby

Praise the Lord, His works are marvelous.
By His grace and His might, He hath exalted us!
Alleluia, alleluia.
By His grace and His might, He hath exalted us. Merciful! merciful!
Is His love now to us. We shall not die but shall live alway, and shall extol the works of the Lord.
We shall praise the works of the Lord. We shall not die, but shall live!
We shall live and tell of the works of the Lord. Alleluia, Merciful is His love to all His people. Alleluia.
Praise the Lord, His works are marvelous. Merciful, merciful.
Merciful is His love to us. By His grace and His might,
He hath exalted us. Alleluia, we shall not die but live forever, and shall praise the works of the Lord. Alleluia, Alleluia.

Sermon Dr. Joseph B. C. Mackie,
Northminister Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

Response By Choir Broadhead

Hear our prayer, O Lord
And grant us Thy peace. A-men.

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital Sunday afternoon, April 18, at 4:30 o'clock, in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edwin Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Arcangelo Corelli

Suite in F
Preludio
Allemanda
Sarabanda
Gavotta
Giga

A great Italian violinist and composer, Corelli lived from 1653 to 1713. As a violinist he laid a firm foundation for all future virtuosi in high technique and pure style of performance; as a composer he materially advanced the progress of musical composition, more in the rôle of reformer than innovator of style. His works have a characteristic conciseness, a lucidity of thought and form, an almost aristocratic bearing.

Johann Sebastian Bach Fantaisie and Fugue in C Minor

The forcefully striking fugal theme is easily followed throughout its intricate evolution.

Legende

The composer has given just enough suggestion in his title for this descriptive work to set the listener's imagination free to wander at will. Perhaps the music paints a fantastic fairyland, but exactly what picture the melodies may weave is as dimmed as are the colors of an ancient strip of tapestry.

Jacques Offenbach

Barcarolle

This is the gently rocking boat song from the comic opera, Tales of Hoffman. Its rhythm suggests the recurring dip of a gondolier's oars as his craft slides silently through the streets of Venice.

Sigfrid Karg-Elert

Pastel in F Sharp

Among the lighter works, this pastel is one of a group of three compositions having the same name. It exemplifies the composer's strong feeling for color, with marked enthusiasm and ingenuity in devising subtle schemes of organ tone-color.

N. C. E. A. MEETS IN DURHAM APRIL 22, 23, AND 24

The annual meeting of the North Carolina Education Association will be held in Durham on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, April 22, 23, and 24. Several of the group dinners and similar occasions will be held at Duke University.

The feature of this dinner will be the presentation by the Class of 1916 of the portrait of Dr. E. C. Brooks, who was for a number of years a member of the Duke faculty. Alumni and faculty members are invited to participate in this occasion. The price of tickets will be 75c each and reservations may be made through the Alumni Office.

An elaborate pageant, commemorating one hundred years of public education in North Carolina, will be presented in the Duke Stadium Friday night, April 23, at 7:30 o'clock. Several thousand persons will participate in the pageant, including many school children. A large attendance from all parts of the state is expected for this occasion. Additional information as to the price of the tickets and other details may be found in the newspapers.

Shield me in danger, O regard me, On Thee, Lord, alone will I call
O Divine Redeemer, I pray Thee, grant me pardon,
And remember not my sins, O divine Redeemer,
I pray Thee, grant me pardon, and remember not my sins.
Night gathers round my soul Fearful I cry to Thee
Come to mine aid O Lord Haste Thee, Lord, haste to help me.
Hear my cry Save me, Lord, in Thy mercy
Hear my cry come and save me, O Lord.
O Divine Redeemer, I pray Thee, grant me pardon, and remember

Anthem—Built on a Rock Christiansen

Built on a Rock the Church doth stand, Even when steeples are falling;
Crumbled have spires in every land, Bells still are chiming and calling;
Calling the young and old to rest, But above all the soul distressed,
Longing for rest everlasting. Bells are chiming, calling, Surely in temple made with hands, God, the most high, is not dwelling.
High above earth His temple stands, All earthly temples excelling;
Yet He whom heavens can not contain, Chose to abide on earth with men,
Built in our bodies His temple.
Build on the Rock the church doth stand Even when steeples are falling,
Crumbled have spires in every land, Bells still are chiming.
On the Rock, on the Rock the church doth stand, Even when steeples are falling, Bells are chiming, calling, are calling.

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program of Modern American Music arranged for the organ recital Sunday afternoon, April 25, at 4:30 o'clock, in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

The modern American organ is a creation of the last twenty or thirty years. Only in England has organ construction paralleled that in America. The improvements have been largely in the mechanical and electrical fields, providing greater convenience to the performer. The many fine instruments in this country and the rapidly increasing public interest in the organ as a concert instrument are producing equally fine American composers who can be classed without apologies with the best that Europe can offer today.

This program is an attempt to show what a few contemporary composers are creating in several countries.

Hendrik Andriessen Troisième Choral
Hendrik Andriessen is organist at Amsterdam Cathedral in the Netherlands.

Seth Bingham Twilight at Fiesole
Seth Bingham is an American whose works, especially those for the organ, are among the best of contemporary literature. Twilight at Fiesole is from "Harmonies di Firenze", a suite for organ inspired by a visit to the lovely Italian city of Florence.

Anton Arensky Phantom Waltz
This is a transcription of a beautiful but morbid Russian song.

But lately in dance I embraced her,
While music's fond spell wrapped us 'round,
I felt the sweet warmth of her fingers;
Her heart in her dear eyes I found.

Now, flowing with pallid white satin,
Her form in its casket lies fair.
Sweet eyes of the dead, sealed and smiling,
Stir not to the music's low prayer.

I slept, and the moon to my pillow
Her ghostly way silently found.
We swayed in the dance together,
While music's fond spell wrapped us 'round.

Guy Weitz Symphony
Regina Pacis
Mater Dolorosa
Stella Maris

Guy Weitz, a Belgian by birth, is an adopted Englishman and organist of the Jesuit Church of the Immaculate Conception in London. His organ symphony, one of the finest published in recent years, marks him as a conservative modernist.

range ment of afternoon examinations, the Committee has not scheduled, with the exception of Freshman English, any examinations for the afternoon. Therefore, the examinations which formerly came in the afternoon will come during the mornings according to the schedule given above.

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital Sunday afternoon, May 2, at 4:30 o'clock, in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Johann Sebastian Bach Toccata and Fugue in D Minor
Composed in Bach's Weimar period, the Toccata and Fugue in D Minor merits the pre-eminent place it has maintained in organ literature.

Johannes Brahms Chorale Preludes
A Rose Breaks into Bloom
O God, Thou Holiest

The series of Chorale Preludes, from which these are taken, was Brahms' only contribution to the field of the organ. They are similar to and were doubtless inspired by the chorales of Bach.

Joseph Jongen Chant de Mai
Jongen was born at Lieges in 1873, was educated at the Conservatory there, took the Prix de Rome in 1891, and has since been associated with the conservatories at Lieges and Brussels.

Ralph Kinder In Springtime
Engelbert Humperdinck Prayer from "Hänsel und Gretel"
This composer rose with lightning rapidity to a very high pinnacle of popular fame, and mainly on the strength of a single opera, "Hänsel und Gretel."

Anthem—How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place

Brahms

How lovely is Thy dwelling place, O Lord of Hosts!
For my soul, it longeth, yea, fainteth, yea, fainteth for the courts

My soul and body crieth out, yea, for the living God.

How lovely is Thy dwelling place, O Lord of Hosts!

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital Sunday afternoon, May 9, at 4:30 o'clock, in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Gabriel Pierné In the Cathedral

The slow and stately opening to this selection suggests an early medieval structure with stern and solid lines—the opposite of the later ornamental Gothic.

Harvey Grace Meditation

Harvey Grace, eminent British composer, has used the spirit of an early cathedral chant for this meditation which is written in an ancient mode. One of the present trends in English composition is the use of the ancient tonality.

Sigfrid Karg-Elert Nearer My God to Thee

The late Karg-Elert heard the legend of the sinking of the Titanic in which the organist, in the midst of the disaster, played the English hymn, Nearer My God to Thee. We find here a modern setting of the familiar hymn-tune and a storm representing the catastrophe.

Camille Saint-Saëns Rhapsodie No. 3, on Breton Melodies

In the middle of the nineteenth century Saint-Saëns was one of the very few French composers of ability. The Rhapsodies are some of the best of his organ works. It is interesting to note that he retained his virtuosity at the organ to an advanced age. He visited America as a concert organist when he was past eighty.

Anton Vodorinski Prelude in C Sharp Minor

FACULTY CLUB'S SPRING PARTY

The Faculty Club, with the co-operation of the administration, will give a party for the members of the Faculty, their wives and guests, on Monday evening, May 10, in Page Auditorium. West, and assisted by members of the Faculty group. Following the program in the auditorium, there will be a social period and refreshments will be served.

ZIGEUNERBARON—(THE GYPSY BARON)

On Tuesday evening, May 11, at 7:30 p.m., there will be shown in Page Auditorium, the film version of Johann Strauss' world-famous operetta, The Gypsy Baron. The film is a Deutsch import, in German with English subtitles. There will be no admission charge; the University community and the public are cordially invited.

OPEN-AIR CONCERT BY UNIVERSITY BAND

The Duke University Concert Band will present the first in a series of open-air concerts on the East Campus, on Sunday afternoon, May 9, at 5:00 o'clock. A platform is being erected near the summer house for the band, and it is suggested that listeners may hear best in the distance between the summer house and Buchanan Boulevard wall.

An interesting program has been prepared, featuring Edward Henderson, piccolist, and Robert Green, tuba soloist. In case of rain, the program will be given in the Woman's College Auditorium.

Hear my prayer, O God, Turn not from me;
Hearken unto the voice of my supplication.

JOE MACKIE, C. L. GRAY, JR.

God of our fathers, known of old, Lord of our far-flung battle line,
Beneath whose awful Hand we hold Dominion over palm and pine;
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget!
The tumult and the shouting dies, The Captains and the Kings depart.

Still stands thine ancient sacrifice, An humble and a contrite heart,
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget!
Far call'd, our navies melt away, On dune and headland sinks the fire,

Lo, all our pomp of yesterday Is one with Nineveh and Tyre!
Judge of the nations, spare us yet, Lest we forget!
If drunk with sigh of pow'r we loose Wild tongues that have not
Thee in awe,

Such hoisting as the Gentiles use, Or lesser breeds without the law,
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget!
For heathen heart that puts her trust In reeking tube and iron shard

All valiant dust that builds on dust, And guarding calls not Thee to guard,
For frantic boast and foolish word, Thy mercy on Thy people,
Lord! Amen.

Sermon—"The Christ-likeness of God" Dr. Elbert Russell

- Saturday, May 22: English 2 and 4.

Since all members of the Freshman Class are required to take English 2 or 4, the examination in Freshman English has been scheduled for Saturday afternoon, May 22.

The holding of uniform examinations during the different afternoons of the examination period has caused many members of the Freshman Class and a large number of advanced students to have two examinations on the same day and, in many instances, examinations two successive afternoons with a third examination the intervening morning. Since it is impossible to avoid these conflicts by any sort of arrangement of afternoon examinations, the Committee has not scheduled, with the exception of Freshman

English, any examinations for the afternoon. Therefore, the examinations which formerly came in the afternoon will come during the mornings according to the schedule given above.

All classes not included in the schedule above are to be arranged by the instructor in charge.

Anthem—Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence Gustav Holst

MISS KRUMMEL, MR. DUNLAP

Let all mortal flesh keep silence, and with fear and trembling stand;
Ponder nothing earthly minded for with blessing in His hand,
Christ our Lord to earth descendeth our full homage to demand.
King of Kings, yet born of Mary, as of old on earth He stood,
Lord of Lords, in human vesture in the Body and the Blood
He will give to all the faithful His own Self for heavenly food.
Rank on rank the host of heaven spreads its vanguard on the way
As the light of light descendeth from the realms of endless day
That the pow'rs of hell may vanish as the darkness clears away.
At His feet the six-winged seraph; Cherubim with sleepless eye,
Veil their faces to the Presence, as with ceaseless voice they cry,
Alleluya, Alleluya, Alleluya Lord most High. A-men, A-men.

Anthem—Four Chorales, from "Jesu, Priceless Treasure"

Bach

Jesu, priceless treasure, Source of purest pleasure,
Truest friend to me. Ah, how long I've panted.

And my heart hath fainted, Thirsting, Lord, for Thee!
Thine I am, O spotless Lamb! I will suffer naught to hide Thee, Naught I ask beside Thee.
In Thine arm I rest me, Foes who would molest me
Cannot reach me here, Though the earth be shaking,
Ev'ry heart he quaking, Jesus calms my fear;
Fires may flash, and thunders crash,
Yea, and sin and hell assail'd me, Jesus will not fail me.
Hence with earthly treasure, Thou art all my pleasure
Jesus, all my choice. Hence, thou empty glory,
Naught to me thy story, Told with tempting voice;
Pain, or loss, or shame, or cross, Shall not from my Saviour move me,
Since he deigns to love me.
Hence, all fears and sadness, For the Lord of gladness, Jesus, enters in; They who love the Father, Though the storms may gather,
Still have peace within; Yea, whate'er I here must hear,
Still in Thee lies purest pleasure, "Jesu, priceless treasure."

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital to be given next Sunday afternoon, May 23, at 4:30 o'clock, in the University Chapel, by Mr.
Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Alexandre Pierre François Boëly

Fantaisie and Fugue in B flat

Today we realize that Bach was the greatest composer of the eighteenth century, a master in the polyphonic style. It is seldom that such a remarkable genius has worthy successors, and so it was with Bach. Yet every great composer has imitators and Boëly was one whose works are quite acceptable. His style is fresh and vigorous.

Girolamo Frescobaldi

Toccata per l'Elevazione

It was during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries that the organ reached sufficient mechanical perfection to allow its being used as a solo instrument. Frescobaldi was the first great concert organist. An Italian by birth, he studied in the Netherlands when that country was the center of musical erudition. He returned to Italy an experienced performer. So great was his fame that 30,000 people attended his opening concert at St. Peter's in Rome.

A toccata is generally a work in free form displaying brilliant technique. In Frescobaldi's day, however, the term frequently referred to any piece suitable to the church service.

Pratella

A Gothic Cathedral

Starting as a mere silhouette upon a leaden sky the image of the cathedral grows more and more distinct until the graceful towering spires and then the full structure is finally revealed in a burst of sunlight.

Robert Schumann

Sketch in D flat

Originally composed for the pedal-piano the Sketches are admirably adapted to the more descriptive interpretations of the organ.

Jules Massenet

Meditation from Thaïs

César Franck

Final in B flat

Typically Franckian in texture this Final creates a definite mood and then increases in intensity to a brilliant climax.

| Anthem—Magnificat | Lutkin |
| My soul, my soul doth magnify the Lord, and my spirit hath rejoiced in God, my Saviour. | |
| For He hath regarded the lowliness of His hand-maiden, For behold from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed. | |
| For He that is mighty, hath magnified me, and Holy is His name. | |
| And His mercy is on them that fear Him throughout all generations. | |
| He hath shewed strength with His arm, | |
| He has scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts, | |
| He hath put down the mighty from their seat, and hath exalted the humble and meek. | |
| He hath filled the hungry with good things; and the rich He hath sent empty away. | |
| He remembering His mercy hath holpen His servant, Israel. | |
| As He promised to our forefathers, Abraham and his seed forever, | |
| Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost, | |
| World without end, Amen. | |
| Hymn—O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee | |

Scripture

Anthem—Spirit of God

Humason

Spirit of God! descend upon my heart; Wean it from earth, thro' all its pulses move;
Stoop to my weakness, mighty as Thou art, And make me love Thee as I ought to love;
I ask no dream, no prophet ecstasies, No sudden rending of the veil of clay,
No angel visitant, no op'ning skies; But take the dimness of my soul away.
Hast Thou not bid us love Thee, God and King? All, all Thine own, soul, heart and strength, and mind;
I see Thy cross; there teach my heart to cling;
O let me seek Thee, and O let me find!
Teach me to love Thee, as Thine angels love, One holy passion filling all my frame;
The kindling of the heav'n descended Dove, My heart an altar, and Thy love the flame.
Thy love the flame. Amen.

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The program for the organ recital Sunday afternoon, September 26, at 4:30 o'clock, in the University Chapel, is the first in a series of six programs arranged by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist. This series will feature the works of contemporary American composers for the organ.

Following is the program:

Seth Bingham

Suite for Organ

Cathedral Strains

Toccata

Characteristic of the best of American contemporary composers is Seth Bingham. In this suite one finds rich new harmonies vitalized by distinctive rhythms. The forms chosen are conventional; for example, in the first movement, a simple three-part form, there is a majestic section, suggesting the grandeur of a cathedral from a distance, then a soft, delicate section, bringing to mind an intimate view of many-colored windows and intricate lines of stone. The first idea returns to create artistic balance.

Johann Sebastian Bach

Choral Preludes

Ich ruf' zu dir, Herr Jesu Christ

Wer nur den lieben Gott lässt walten

Alle Menschen müssen sterben

Seth Bingham

Roulette

Pietro Yon

Rimembranza

Concert Study

For more than ten years Pietro Yon, honorary organist of St. Peter's in Rome, has been organist of St. Patrick's cathedral in New York. Because of his long service here, his ever-popular compositions, and his brilliant career as a concert organist, we like to claim him as an American.

All roads lead to Economy when they're paved with TRINIDASCO!

Economical . . . enduring . . . easy to handle—these are the three outstanding advantages of Trinidadasco cold-laid paving mixtures—the latest development in modern asphalt paving construction.

Cold-laid mixtures made by the Trinidadasco process utilize Trinidad Lake Asphalt which is dispersed in a pulverized form in a mixture of mineral aggregate and a specially prepared fluxing agent. The unique characteristics of Trinidad Lake Asphalt used in the construction of hot-mix pavements since 1876—ductility, adhesiveness, cohesiveness and an inherent colloidal mineral filler—give Trinidadasco cold-laid mixtures qualities that are essential to long-life, low-cost per-square-yard-per-year roads.

Trinidadasco mixtures have other advantages too. They are "traffic safe" . . . mixed and laid as easily as hot mixtures . . . can be hauled long distances and used at once or several days after being prepared . . . do not "set up" until subjected to the pressure of rolling.

That's why all roads lead to economy when they're paved with Trinidadasco. Highway engineers and others charged with the responsibility of constructing durable, economical roads should have all the facts about Trinidadasco.

Mail the coupon below today. It will bring you our 24-page illustrated booklet FREE. There are other Barber Genasco Products for constructing and maintaining highways. Check the items in which you are interested, and this information will be sent to you.

The program for the organ recital, which will be given Sunday afternoon, October 10, at 4:30 o'clock, in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist, will be dedicated to the memory of James Buchanan Duke (1856-1925), October 10, being the anniversary of Mr. Duke's death. Following the recital a wreath will be placed on Mr. Duke's tomb in the Memorial Chapel.

Following is the program:

Johann Sebastian Bach

Tocata and Fugue in D. Minor

A toccata is literally a "touch" piece, a display of fast notes without any definite form. This one is short and showy. The fugue, which is always a polyphonic composition based upon the varying treatment of a single theme which is given out alone, in this case employs a subject which combines a scale-wise passage with the alternation of the dominant note. Probably one of the reasons for the popularity of this work is its brilliant close in free style.

Anton Dvorak

Largo from New World Symphony

Gordon Balch Nevin

Will o' the Wisp

James H. Rogers

Suite for Organ

Prologue

Intermezzo

Tocatta

For many years James H. Rogers was a noted music critic of a large Cleveland paper. His organ works display only a part of his versatile career as a composer. Always fresh and intelligent, never diffuse, his works receive pleasant acclaim from all.

 Let all the world in every corner sing, My God and King.
 The heavens are not too high, His praise may thither fly;
 The earth is not too low, His praises there may grow.
 Let all the world in every corner sing My God and King.
 The Church with psalms must shout, No door can keep them out.
 But above all the heart must bear—the longest part.
 Let all the world in every corner sing My God and King,
 My God and King, My God and King.

 Now and forever—more be Thine!

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital to be given in the University Chapel, Sunday, October 17, at 4:30 p.m., by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Bruce Simonds Dorian Prelude on "Iam sol recedit igneus"
 The fourth in the series of programs featuring American composers introduces Bruce Simonds, pianist, composer, and teacher of the history of music at Yale. This work, one of the two written for organ by the composer, is based on a Gregorian chant. The lack of definite rhythm to be found here is typical of medieval music.

Alexander Russell Up the Saguenay
 Over the deep mysterious waters of the Saguenay broods the spirit of vanished romance, the solitude of forest-covered mountains. Along the upper reaches the river rolls past two capes, Eternity and Trinity, which rise like twin Gibraltors on guard. High against the gaunt rocks of Trinity stands a statue of the Virgin, erected by grateful mariners. Beyond are wide waters, sweeping fields reaching to a distant horizon.

Harvey Gaul La Brume
 Harvey Gaul, author of many attractive organ compositions, has been situated in Pittsburgh for many years.

Powell Weaver The Squirrel
Leo Sowerby Carillon Pageant

The Carillon offers a sweet and sentimental touch while the Pageant gives a chance to the organist to display pedal technique. It might be interesting to note that all but a very brief passage of the fast-moving notes are played with the feet, the hands often being entirely at rest. It is not uncommon here for two, three, or even four notes to be sounded simultaneously on the pedals.

DR. RUSSELL TO DELIVER SECOND LECTURE ON WORLD CONFERENCES MONDAY, OCTOBER 18

The second lecture by Dr. Elbert Russell, constituting an appraisal of the World Conferences at Oxford and Edinburgh, will be given in Page Auditorium, Monday, October 18, at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Russell will speak on "A Significant Step Toward Church Unity."

The University community and the public are cordially invited to attend this lecture.

MR. MARIA TO ADDRESS MATHEMATICAL SEMINAR

At a meeting of the Mathematical Seminar on Wednesday, October 20, at 4 o'clock, in Room 103, Page Auditorium, Mr. A. J. Maria will speak on the subject: "The Displacement of the Equilibrium Point of Green's Function for an Annulus."

COUNCIL ON UNDERGRADUATE INSTRUCTION

The Council on Undergraduate Instruction will meet on Thursday, October 21, in Room 210, School of Religion.

RUTH BRYAN OWEN ROHDE TO LECTURE IN WOMAN'S COLLEGE AUDITORIUM, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 19

The first lecture of the Woman's Student Forum series for the new academic year will be delivered in the Woman's College Auditorium, Tuesday, October 19, at 8:00 p.m., by Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, former United States Minister to Denmark and the daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, who will speak on the subject, "This Business of Diplomaey."

Admission will be 75c, tickets to be purchased at the door on the evening of the lecture.

An orator of note, Mrs. Owen is a speaker of genuine charm. It is said that she began her speaking career by making political speeches for her famous father, when he was battling for the presidency of the United States. Since then she has had many and varied experiences that have given her unique and interesting material for her public addresses. Years spent as the wife of Major Reginald Owen, in the West Indies, in India, in London, in Egypt, in the Allenby campaign that wrested the Holy Land from the Turks in the World War, her later experiences in all parts of the United States and, more recently, the beginning of her diplomatic career in Denmark and her marriage to one of the prominent citizens of that country, combine to round out a personality that was striking from the beginning.

DON CORRELL

Blessed he, who, from earth's dreams awaking,
Turns his heart from worldly pride; Who ev'ry joy forsaking,
Of wealth the golden fetters breaking,
Treasures of heav'n spreads around on ev'ry side.

Then when the awful trumpet soundeth, Let him rejoice!
Blessed is he, in whom God's grace and love aboundeth, Angels for him heav'n's gates fling open wide! Blessed he!
Blessed is he, in whom God's grace aboundeth,
Heav'n's gates fling open wide!
Angels for him heav'n's gates open wide!

MRS. J. FOSTER BARNES
Lost in the night doth the heathen yet languish
Longing for morning the darkness to vanquish,
Plaintively heaving a sigh full of anguish,
Oh! Christ is coming soon,
Sorrowing brother in darkness yet dwelling,
Dawned has the day of a radiance excelling,
Death's dreaded darkness forever dispelling,
Lo, Christ is coming soon,
Light o'er the land of the heathen is beaming,
Rivers are streaming, Millions yet sigh for the Savior redeeming, Must he be vainly awaiting the morrow? Shall we, no light and no comfort him borrow?
Giving no heed to His burden of sorrow: oh, will not day come soon?
He is coming soon.

Sermon—"Life and Happiness" Dr. Elbert Russell

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist, has arranged the following program for the organ recital to be given Sunday, October 24, at 4:30 p.m., in the University Chapel:

Harry C. Banks, Jr. Choral-Improvisation on "Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence"

Let all mortal flesh keep silence is a familiar medieval tune used as the foundation of this work. It has long been a common practice to use a well-known melody in this manner. Of course, this composer uses a modern harmony in his treatment.

Johann Sebastian Bach Fantasia and Fugue in C Minor
Following the soft and flowing Fantasia comes the virile statement of the fugue subject and its contrapuntal development by the greatest master of polyphony.

Philip James Meditation à Ste. Clothilde
Ste. Clothilde is the church in Paris in which César Franck played for many years. In his meditation Philip James heard one of the melodies Franck used in the great D Minor symphony.

R. S. Stoughton In Fairyland
The Enchanted Forest
Idyl
March of the Gnomes

Typical of the lighter type of program music popular at the beginning of this century this suite leads one into an imaginative world of dreams.

Sigfrid Karg-Elert Legend

Karg-Elert is a modern German composer whose works, chiefly for organ, have delighted many American audiences. The Legend is one of a Triptych for organ, delicate, sentimental, yet building to a magnificent climax.

PROFESSOR H. E. MYERS, Presiding

Organ—Pastorale on "Dominus reget me" Thiman

Hymn—For the Beauty of the Earth (Dix) arr. Cochcr
Prayer

Anthem—When Wilt Thou Save the People? Mueller

When wilt Thou save the people? O God of mercy, when?
Not kings and lords, but nations! Not thrones and crowns, but men!
Flowers of Thy heart, O God are they: Let them not pass, like weeds, away.

Their heritage a sunless day. God save the people!
Shall crime bring crime forever, Strength aiding still the strong?
Is it Thy will, O Father, That man shall toil for wrong?
"No," Thy skies; Man's clouded sun shall brightly rise,
And songs ascend, instead of sighs

God save the people! When wilt Thou save the people? O God of mercy when?

The people, Lord, the people, Not thrones and crowns, but men!
God save the people; Thine they are, Thy children as Thine angels
fair;

From vice, oppression, and despair, God save the people!

Hymn—God of Grace and God of Glory (Regent Square) Smart
Scripture

Semi-Chorus—Spirit of God Humason
Soloists

MISS ALDRIDGE, MR. GRAY, MR. DUNLAP

Spirit of God! descend upon my heart;
Wean it from earth, thro' all its pulses move;
Stoop to my weakness, mighty as Thou art,
And make me love Thee as I ought to love;
I ask no dream, no prophet ecstasies,
No sudden rending of the veil of clay, No angel visitant, no op'ning skies;

But take the dimness of my soul away.
Hast Thou not bid us love Thee, God and King?

All, all Thine own, soul, heart and strength and mind;
I see Thy cross; there teach my heart to cling:

O let me seek Thee, and O let me find!
Teach me to love Thee, as Thine angels love, One holy passion filling all my frame;

The kindling of the heav'n descended Dove,
My heart an altar, and Thy love the flame;
Thy love the flame. A-men.

Sermon—"The Faith of our Fathers and Sons"

Rev. Paul G. Dennis

President, New Jersey Council of Churches, Morristown, New Jersey

Response By Choir Lutkin

The Lord bless you and keep you. The Lord lift His countenance upon you; and give you peace.

The Lord make His face to shine upon you, and be gracious unto
you. A-men.

ORGAN RECITAL

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital Sunday afternoon, November 7, at 4:30 o'clock, in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University organist:

Johann Sebastian Bach Prelude and Fugue in E Minor
This Prelude and Fugue in E Minor is one of the less well-known of the eight short preludes and fugues for the organ. Bach does not fail to write interesting fugues even in such brief space.

Christoph Willibald Gluck Andante from "Orfeo"
The opera, originated in the seventeenth century in Italy, soon lost its original dramatic ideal and became merely a show for great singers. In the following century Gluck brought about a return to the idea of a drama set to music. Orfeo, the first of the reformed operas, created a bitter musical war upon its appearance in 1762.

Joseph W. Clokey

Twilight Moth is a dainty selection from a group of organ pieces called Sketches from Nature by the organist of Pomona College in California.

Peter Ilyich Tschaiowsky

Andante Cantabile

Of all the enormous amount of literature for the string quartet perhaps this slow movement from the quartet, opus 11, is one of the most familiar. It is readily adaptable to the organ.

Julius Reubke

The Ninety-fourth Psalm

Introduction—Grave

1. O Lord God, to whom vengeance belongeth; O God, to whom vengeance belongeth, shew thyself.
2. Lift up thyself, thou judge of the earth: render a reward to the proud.

Larghetto: Allegro Con fuoco

3. Lord, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked triumph?
6. They slay the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherless.
7. Yet they say, the Lord shall not see, neither shall the God of Jacob regard it.

Adagio

17. Unless the Lord had been my help, my soul had almost dwelt in silence.
19. In the multitude of my cares within me thy comforts delight my soul.

Allegro; allegro assai

22. But the Lord is my defence; and my God is the rock of my refuge.
23. And he shall bring upon them their own iniquity, and shall cut them off in their own wickedness; yea, the Lord our God shall cut them off.

Julius Reubke, son of Adolph Reubke, a prominent organ-builder, was born at Hausneindorf March 23, 1834, and died at Pillnitz, June 3, 1858, less than 25 years of age. He was a composer, pianist, and organist—a pupil of Franz Liszt. Outstanding among his works, all published posthumously, are a piano sonata and the organ sonata The Ninety-fourth Psalm. Thus far only the latter has received wide recognition. Its significance, indeed, is such that it seems destined to immortalize its composer.

The sonata, really a fantasia, consists of three movements, preceded by an elaborate introduction. A single theme serves as the basis for the whole structure which proceeds without pause. Deeply this acorn, from which grew the mighty oak, sinks its root into the soil. The two contrasting phrases of the theme, a sharply rhythmed figure, and a chromatic scale, occur usually in close succession, frequently separate, at times simultaneously.

COUNCIL ON GRADUATE INSTRUCTION

The Council on Graduate Instruction will meet on Thursday, November 11, at 4:00 p.m. in Room 210, School of Religion.

EXHIBIT OF EARLY AMERICAN PAINTINGS

An exhibit of early American paintings will be shown in the gallery of the Woman's College Library beginning November 8, through November 28. This exhibit, which is brought to the University by the Fine Arts Department, is expected to attract unusual attention as the knowledge of 18th and 19th century American painters is slight compared to the works of the French masters, which have been the chief subjects of art study in this country.

The exhibit will include works from the Addison Gallery at Andover, Mass., the Fogg Art Museum at Cambridge, Mass., and the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, by J. S. Copley, Gilbert Stuart, Benjamin West and other notable Americans.

SCHOOL OF RELIGION FACULTY MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Faculty of the School of Religion Wednesday, November 10, at 4:00 p.m. in Room 110, School of Religion.

MR. WAGGONER, DR. GRAY

God of our fathers, known of old, Lord of our farung battle line,
 Beneath whose awful Hand we hold Dominion over palm and pine;
 Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget! Lest we forget!

The tumult and the shouting dies, The Captains and the Kings depart,
 Still stands thine ancient sacrifice, An humble and a contrite heart,
 Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget! Lest we forget!

Far call'd, our navies melt away, On dune and head-land sinks the fire,
 Lo, all our pomp of yesterday Is one with Nineveh and Tyre!
 Judge of the nations, spare us yet, Lest we forget! Lest we forget!

If drunk with sight of power we loose Wild tongues that have not
 Thee in awe,
 Such boasting as the Gentiles use, Or lesser breeds without the law,
 Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet, Lest we forget! Lest we forget!

For heathen heart that puts her trust In reeking tube and iron shard
 All valiant dust that builds on dust, And guarding calls not Thee to guard,
 For frantic boast and foolish word, Thy mercy on Thy people,
 Lord! A-men.

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital to be given in the University Chapel, Sunday, November 14, at 4:30 p.m., by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University organist:

Henry Purcell

Bell Symphony

At the end of the seventeenth century when Purcell lived, most music was of the choral type. There was no such thing as a symphony orchestra until almost a hundred years later. The term symphony at this period referred to any music for an instrument or group of instruments without voices.

Robert Schumann

Sketch in D flat Major
Sketch in F Minor

Although the organ was a prominent instrument when Schumann lived, he was not an organist nor did he write for the organ. The four Sketches played so frequently on the organ were composed for the pedal piano.

Franz Schubert

Symphony in B Minor
Allegro moderato
Andante con moto

The name of Schubert at once brings to mind the idea of beautiful melody. His songs were of sufficient significance to give rise to the composition of art-songs for solo voices which were not bound to the opera. This symphony, unfinished because of its two instead of four movements, is full of lovely lyric lines. It presents Schubert's melodic gift in symphonic form.

Henri Mulet

Carillon-Sortie

Few composers have been able to equal the brilliance of Mulet. Carillon-Sortie displays him at his best.

CAROLINA-DUKE PHYSICS COLLOQUIUM

The Carolina-Duke Physics Colloquium will meet at Duke University Thursday, November 18, at 8 p.m. in Room 202, Physics Building. Professor E. K. Plyler, of the University of North Carolina, will speak on "The Infra-Red Absorption of Mixtures of Liquids."

 MRS. STANLEY, MRS. WARNER, MR. HOOPER, MR. HENDERSON

We praise thee, O God: we acknowledge thee to be the Lord.
 All the earth doth worship thee, the Father everlasting.
 To thee all angels cry aloud: the heavens, and all the powers therein;
 To thee cherubim and seraphim continually do cry,
 Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of Sabaoth;
 Heaven and earth are full of the majesty of thy glory.
 The glorious company of the apostles praise thee.
 The goodly fellowship of the prophets praise thee.
 The noble army of martyrs praise thee.
 The holy church throughout all the world doth acknowledge thee;
 The Father of an infinite majesty;
 Thine adorable, true, and only Son;
 Also the Holy Ghost, the Comforter.
 Thou art the king of glory, O Christ.
 Thou art the everlasting Son of the Father.
 When thou tookest upon thee to deliver man, thou didst humble thyself to be born of a virgin.
 When thou hadst overcome the sharpness of death, thou didst open the kingdom of heaven to all believers.
 Thou sittest at the right hand of God, in the glory of the Father.
 We believe that thou shalt come to be our judge.
 We therefore pray thee, help thy servants, whom thou hast redeemed with thy precious blood.
 Make them to be numbered with thy saints in glory everlasting.
 O Lord, save thy people, and bless thine heritage.
 Govern them, and lift them up for ever.
 Day by day we magnify thee; and we worship thy name ever, world without end. Vouchsafe, O Lord, to keep us this day without sin.
 O Lord, have mercy upon us, have mercy upon us.
 O Lord, let thy mercy be upon us, as our trust is in thee.
 O Lord, in thee have I trusted: let me never be confounded.

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the Organ Recital, to be given in the University Chapel, Sunday, November 21, at 4:30 p.m. by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Johann Sebastian Bach

Toccata, Adagio, and Fugue in C Major

The Toccata has a long introduction of flowing single line melody first on the manuals and then on the pedals. The main section develops from a double phrase by repetition with variations at different pitch levels.

Of the many preludes and fugues written for the organ by Bach this is the only case in which the composer includes a slow movement. The Adagio is a lovely lyric melody with a very simple accompaniment. Connecting it with the fugue is a short lugubrious transition offering the chance for all the thick and growing stops of the organ.

The Fugue, in six-eight rhythm, employs a simple but rather long subject which is used exceedingly well in the development of the movement. The beauty and glory of a fugue is its ability to present an idea evolving from a small germ, the fugue subject, to a great climax. The height of emotion is not attained with one attempt but in a cumulative series of peaks all leading to the grand culmination.

Johann Sebastian Bach

Chorale Preludes

Vater unser im Himmelreich
Herzlich thut mich verlangen

The chorale preludes were written for use in the Lutheran service, the tunes to be sung by the congregation much as hymns are used today. The melodies were seldom original with the composer but were derived frequently from the ancient plain song of the early Christian church and frequently from the familiar folk songs of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries.

Nikolai Rimsky-Korsakoff

Scheherazade Suite

The Arabian Nights tales served as the genesis of many musical compositions of the nineteenth century. Music passed through an era of romanticism in which all of the mysterious, all of the strange and exotic, and all of the fantastic were subjects to inspire art.

Request number

Since the regular organ programs are planned several weeks in advance, it is usually impossible to incorporate in them the many requests which are received. It is hoped that by including an unannounced number on each program some of these suggestions may be heard.

Johann Sebastian Bach

Fantasie and Fugue in G Minor

A brilliant and ponderous section is followed by one in severe polyphonic style; both are repeated to lead up to the fugue. The subject is light and gay, growing through a cycle of emotional summits to a striking climax.

SPECIAL "THANKSGIVING DAY" CHAPEL SERVICE

Rev. A. E. Acey, prominent Richmond, Virginia, preacher, will be the guest speaker at the special "Thanksgiving" service, at 11:00 a.m., Thursday, November 25, in the University Chapel.

Report on Recent Cooperative Activities Between Duke University and the University of North Carolina

October 28, 1937.

In the belief that the growing number of cooperative enterprises between the University of North Carolina and Duke University is of general interest to the two faculties, the following outline has been prepared by the Joint Committee on Intellectual Co-operation. These mutual efforts have developed for the most part within the past five years. The Committee would appreciate information about similar examples not yet brought to its attention.

1. Library cooperation. In 1934, with the aid of a special grant, the two University libraries had their catalogs copied. These were exchanged and have since been kept up to date by regular interchange of cards for new acquisitions. The exchange of catalogs has resulted in a steadily increasing volume of inter-library loans between the libraries. Such loans have been further aided by a daily messenger service started in 1936 to carry books between the libraries. Since 1936 a $50,000 grant from the General Education Board, shared equally by the libraries, has assisted in building up cooperative book collections in English, Economics, Sociology, Botany, Chemistry, Physics, and Zoology. Under an agreement there has been no duplication from this fund and the departments concerned have developed their special research interests. Another cooperative plan worked out during the past year is to bring together in this center a comprehensive collection of government publications, local, state, federal, and foreign. This field is so vast that the combined resources of the two libraries will be required to secure even approximately complete documentary materials. According to a compilation just released by the U. S. Advisory Committee on Education, the Chapel Hill-Duke area stands thirty-fourth among the library centers of the country, outranking any other southern region. It is expected that such joint efforts as those enumerated above will raise still higher the national standing.

2. Combined action in bringing learned society meetings to the two campuses. Among the organizations for which the two universities have been joint hosts are the American Mathematical Society, Mathematical Association of America, American Historical Association, Southern Historical Association (to meet in November, 1937), American Association of Teachers of Spanish, American Physical Society, American Chemical Society, and Southern Economic Association. All except one of these meetings have been held since 1935.

3. Joint seminars or classes for advanced students. The Mathematics, Philosophy, Physics, and Chemistry Departments have more or less regularly scheduled seminars or colloquia meeting alternately on the two campuses. In each institution a certain number of courses in the other university can be credited toward a graduate degree. Graduate courses in the two Classics Departments are listed in both university catalogs.

4. Visiting professors. A joint professorship in the universities is held by Dr. Herbert von Beckerath in the field of economics. Other recent instances of visiting professors offering regular courses in the neighboring institution include members of the English, Sociology, and History Departments, and the Law and Medical Schools. Shorter series of lectures or single class meetings have been met by visiting instructors in the Mathematics, Botany, Zoology, Library Science, Philosophy, English, Psychology, and Geology Departments. Of a similar nature are addresses and papers frequently read before the History Clubs, Pi Mu, the Philological Club, Erasmus Club, Sigma Xi, Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society, Crime Study Club, and other scholarly associations in the two universities.

5. Joint sponsorship of distinguished visiting lecturers. Through combined efforts a number of well known scholars in botany, library science, mathematics, philosophy, law, history, English, Spanish, chemistry, sociology, and several other fields, have been brought to one or both campuses.

6. Participation in doctoral examinations. The Philosophy, Psychology, and Zoology Departments report joint participation, at least occasionally, in examinations for the doctoral degree.

7. Publication of books, articles, etc. The learned journals issued by the two universities have published much material for both faculties. These articles are found in the Mitchell Scientific Journal, Duke Mathematical Journal, North Carolina Law Review, Law and Contemporary Problems, Studies in Philology, South Atlantic Quarterly, Social Forces, Hispanic American Historical Review, Southern Economic Journal, American Literature, and others. In book publication, the University of North Carolina Press has issued volumes for several of the Duke staff, the majority of them in history.

8. A few of many other instances of co-operation will be summarized briefly: (a) Training of librarians on the Duke University staff in the University of North Carolina Library School. Schedules have been arranged to meet the convenience of these students and the needs of departments; (b) the law faculties have worked jointly on drafting of proposed legislation, particularly for the North Carolina Conference for Social Service, and in the sponsoring of a number of legislative matters before committees of the State General Assembly; (c) joint field trips in this and nearby states for students in the two Departments of Geology; (d) mutual aid on research problems by the Spanish faculty at North Carolina and the Latin American History faculty at Duke; (e) aid by the U. N. C. Bureau of Educational Research to the Duke Department of Education in the field of educational tests; (f) lending of scientific apparatus between the Chemistry and Physics Departments; (g) Duke University, the University of North Carolina, and the State Department of Education are co-operating in research on higher education for Negroes, looking toward plans for graduate and professional training for Negroes. The Director is paid jointly by the two universities and the State Department. His office and clerical assistance are provided by the universities. He arranges meetings at which faculty members from both institutions, Negro leaders, and other citizens of the state take part; (h) Duke University and the Institute for Research in Social Science at the University of North Carolina are jointly financing field work in North Carolina for the compilation of A Linguistic Atlas of the United States and Canada, a project of the American Council of Learned Societies; (i) certain members of the Law and Sociology faculties at Duke and North Carolina cooperated in bringing about the installation of a more approved form of juvenile court in Durham; (j) many representatives of the two universities are serving jointly on committees of such organizations as the North Carolina Conference for Social Service, and Inter-racial Commission, the North Carolina Mental Hygiene Society, and the Southern Policy Committee; (k) there is an annual meeting of economists of Duke, North Carolina, and North Carolina State College, rotating the meetings among the three institutions; (l) an annual medical institute, sponsored jointly by the Duke and North Carolina Medical Schools, for the purpose of advanced training for both white and Negro practicing physicians; (m) plans have been completed for field work in medical social service to be directed by a supervisor attached to and paid by Duke University Hospital. The course in case work will be given at the University of North Carolina and credit given there for the field work. The supervisor is yet to be secured; (n) the weekly printed calendars of the two institutions each include a schedule of events on the other campus; (o) members of both faculties and student bodies have joined to form a symphony orchestra; (p) the two University Art Departments are developing plans for regular interchange of slides, photographs, and exhibitions.

ORGAN RECITAL

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital to be given in the University Chapel, Sunday, November 28, at 4:30 p.m. by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Johann Nikolaus Hanff

Chorale—Ein' Feste Burg

Hanff was a predecessor of Bach, a church composer of the group which laid the foundation upon which Bach built. His style is clear, concise, and vigorous.

Karl Stamitz

Andante

There was an orchestra at Mannheim in the eighteenth century which was the first to gain a widespread reputation. As conductors and composers for it there appeared some of the foremost and most progressively modern musicians of the day. Prominent among them was Karl Stamitz.

Johann Sebastian Bach

Prelude and Fugue in B Minor

The prelude suggests a very delicate and exceedingly intricate pattern of lace-work in front of the solid and substantial fugue. Together the Prelude and Fugue form one of the best of Bach's major organ works.

Manuel de Falla

Fisherman's Song
Pantomime

Request number

Since the regular organ programs are planned several weeks in advance, it is usually impossible to incorporate in them the many requests which are received. It is hoped that by including an unannounced number on each program some of these suggestions may be heard.

Henry K. Hadley Entr'Acte from "The Atonement of Pan"

The opera in America has been almost exclusively an importation from Europe. There have been several Americans, Hadley among them, who have written creditable works, but they are not yet accepted in the standard repertoires of our opera companies.

Sigfrid Karg-Elert

Saluto Angelico
Lauda Sion

These selections appear in a group entitled Cathedral Windows. Both religious in nature, the first is serene and lovely, the second vigorous and majestic.

PROFESSOR RHINE TO LECTURE ON "EXPLORING THE JUNGLE OF THE MIND"

The third in the 1937-1938 Series of University Lectures will be delivered in Page Auditorium, on Tuesday, November 30, at 8:00 p.m., by Dr. J. B. Rhine, Professor of Psychology at Duke University, whose subject will be "Exploring the Jungle of the Mind."

Dr. Rhine's work during recent years in this field at Duke has attracted widespread attention. His book, "Frontiers of the Mind," was recently selected by the Book-of-the-Month Club as the book of the month in which it appeared. His experiments in the realm of parapsychology and the new Duke quarterly journal, the Journal of Parapsychology, edited by him, have aroused even more than national interest. His lecture in the University Series is sure to attract a large attendance.

Members of the University community and the public are cordially invited.

Hymn—Joy to the World! (Antioch) Handel
Prayer

Anthem—O Nightingale, Awake (Arr.) Dickinson
O nightingale, awake! O thou that mak'st sweet melody
Among the branches green and high, Now sing thy loveliest song
To the little Child In manger bare, In beauty rare So wondrous fair:
O sing, sing, sing, Sing, for Christ is born to-night!
Fly swift to the manger small! Fly swift to the humble stable low,
While from thy throat pour sweetest songs Thou, nightingale dost know:
To the little Child Sweetly singing Strains so ringing
Praises bringing; Sing, sing, sing, Sing, for Christ is born to-night!
Sing, nightingale, O sing A hundred hundred thousand notes!
Glad praises to the Saviour bring, and make Him know our love:
To the little Child Songs out pouring, Lightly soaring, Him adoring, Sing, sing, sing, Sing, for Christ is born to-night!

Hymn—There's A Song in the Air (Christmas song) Harrington

Scripture

Anthem—The Shepherd's Story Dickinson
Soloists

MRS. STANLEY, DR. GRAY, MR. DUNLAP
Nowell! Sing we clear! Holpen are all folk on earth,
Born is God's Son so dear. To Bethlehem did they go,
The Shepherds three: To Bethlehem did they go, To see whe'r it were so or no,
Whether Christ were born or no to set men free,
Masters, in this hall, Hear ye news to-day Brought over sea,
And ever you I pray.
Nowell! Sing we clear! Holpen are all folk on earth,
Born is God's Son so dear.
Then to Bethlehem town did the Shepherds go, and in a sorry place
Heard the oxen low, Therein did they see a sweet and goodly May, Upon the straw she lay. And a little child On her arm had she.
"Wot ye who this is!" Said the hinds to me, O and ass him know kneeling on their knee: Wondrous joy had I This little Babe to see. Nowell! This is Christ the Lord, Masters, be ye glad!
Christmas is come in, And no folk should be sad.
Nowell! Sing we clear! Holpen are all folk on earth, Born is God's Son so dear.

Sermon—"The Saving Accent" Dr. Frank S. Hickman

Benediction

Response By Choir Latkin

The Lord bless you and keep you. The Lord lift His countenance upon you; and give you peace.
The Lord make His face to shine upon you, and be gracious unto
you. Amen.

Organ—Noel Polonais Guilmant

SUNDAY AFTERNOON ORGAN RECITAL

Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist, has arranged the following program for the organ recital to be given in the University Chapel. Sunday, December 5, at 4:30 p.m.:

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart Fantasia in F
Mozart wrote very little for the organ, yet this Fantasia is evidence of his competence in that field. The work opens with a soft Adagio in F minor. The main part is faster in F major; the Adagio returns in the Coda.

Sigfrid Karg-Elert

March Pontificale

The Marche Pontificale is the third in a Triptych for organ. It is distinctly programmatic in style. One can picture a stately ecclesiastical procession gradually approaching from a distance and entering a Gothic cathedral.

Richard Wagner

Prelude to "Tristan and Isolde"

Tristan and Isolde is one of the most emotional of operas. The tragedy is foretold in the prelude where we are introduced to the musical counterparts of Tristan, Isolde, and other characters of the drama. We also meet themes representing objects or ideas such as the love-portion, the glance which aroused the lovers, the ship, the sea, and death.

Joseph Bonnett

Ariel

One might consider this dainty work a sketch of the airy spirit Ariel of Shakespeare's Tempest.

Request Number

Max Reger

Benedictus

Toccata in D Minor

Max Reger is often called by his fellow-Germans the modern Bach. It is true that his works are polyphonic in nature and painstakingly polished.

The Benedictus is one of the loveliest of modern organ compositions. The Toccata is a series of climaxes interrupted by a brief, slow and soft section of beauty and repose.

O holy night! the stars are brightly shining, It is the night of the dear Saviour's birth!
Long lay the world in sin and error pining,
Till He appear'd and the soul felt its worth,
A thrill of hope the weary world rejoices,
For yonder breaks a new and glorious morn!
Fall on your knees! O hear the angel voices!
O night divine! O night when Christ was born.
O night, O night divine!

Now is come our salvation, From heav'nly heights above;
Hope to heal ev'ry nation, Proof of the Father's love.
Day spring now leaves the sky With man to make His dwelling;
"Joy to the world," we cry, "All other joys excelling."
Join in songs of thanksgiving, Anthems of solemn praise,

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON, JANUARY 9

Following is the program arranged for the Organ Recital, to be given in the University Chapel Sunday, January 9, at 4:00 o'clock, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead. Mr. Broadhead will be assisted by Mr. Robert B. Fearing, violist. Special attention is called to the change in hour for the recital, which will be given each Sunday at 4:00 p.m. instead of 4:30 p.m.

Johann Sebastian Bach Toccata and Fugue in D Minor

This is one of the most satisfying pieces ever written for the organ. It appears again and again on programs, and half of the Bach requests are for this one number. The Toccata is rather short, the fugue subject is easy to remember, and the closing free section is very dramatic.

Louis Nicolas Clerambault Prelude

The eighteenth century composers developed a style of lightness, of balance, and symmetry which is unexcelled even today. This dainty prelude does not stir any emotions but when it is finished, one feels a sense of perfection in the arrangement of notes.

Guy Weitz, a native Belgian, became a naturalized Englishman, has been organist at the Roman Catholic cathedral in London for many years. ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist, has arranged the following program for the organ recital in the University Chapel Sunday afternoon, January 16, at four o'clock:

Johann Nikolas Hanff Chorale—Ein' Feste Burg

The backbone of German music is the chorale. Bach and his predecessors constantly used chorales in their works and made many arrangements of the tunes with varying harmonies. Hanff took this tune of Martin Luther and transcribed it for the organ, to be used in the Lutheran service.

Johann Sebastian Bach Toccata, Adagio and Fugue in C Major

After brilliant cadenzas on the manuals and on the pedal, Bach takes one theme and its answering phrase and states it over several times at different key levels. The Adagio is one of those slow movements which only Bach can write. It possesses a depth of feeling expressed in the simplest fashion. The Fugue shows what a master can do with the very trite six-eight rhythm. It displays remarkable vitality and strength.

Frederick Candlyn Chanson des Alpes

This is a set of variations on a charming French folk-song.

Marcel Dupre Berceuse from the 'Suite Bretonne'

Dupre, organist at St. Sulpice in Paris following Widor, has just completed a concert tour of the United States where he has received great acclaim. He is a master of improvisation and is able to play the complete organ works of Bach from memory.

Joseph Bonnet Concert Variations

Universally attractive, this set of variations, built upon a simple theme, is the ambition of every organ student. It has the two important qualities of fascination for the performer and exhilaration for the auditor.

O Worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness;

Hymn—Lead On, O King Eternal

(Lancashire) Smart

Prayer

Anthem—Lovely Appear

Gounod

Soloist—MRS. STANLEY

Lovely appear over the mountains The feet of them that preach,
and bring good news of peace,

Ye mountains, ye perpetual hills, bow ye down.
Over the barren wastes shall flow'rs now have possession.
Dark shades of ancient days, full of hate and oppression,
In the brightness of joy fade away, and are gone,
In this age, truly blest more than ages preceding;
Shall the corn never fail from the plentiful ground;
Under the shining sky shall the lambs gaily bound;
Void of fear, undisturbed, safely shall they be feeding,
Then the timorous birds, e'en the turtle dove meek,
Shall not fear any more the hawk's merciless beak.
Lovely appear over the mountains The feet of them that preach,
and bring good news of peace.
Ye mountains, ye perpetual hills, bow ye down.
Over the barren wastes shall flow'rs now have possession.
Dark shades of ancient days, full of hate and oppression,
In the brightness of joy fade away, and are gone.

Hymn—Rise Up, O Men of God!

(St. Thomas) Walter

Scripture

Anthem—Cherubim Song

Bartnyanski

Like a choir of angels solemn, solemn gath'ring through the air.
Bring we to our heav'nly Father, life bestowing, thrice sacred son and prayer.
Far from our hearts on this blessed day do we drive each care, each earthly care away. A-men.
Like a King of All shall we raise, shall we raise Thee,
Wafer, unseen by angel-ranks, the consecrated wafer.
Hallelujah! Hallelujah!

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital which will be given in the University Chapel, Sunday afternoon, January 23, at 4:00 o'clock by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University organist:

Dietrich Buxtehude

Prelude, Fugue, and Chaconne

Of all the influences brought to bear on Bach, that of Buxtehude was unquestionably the strongest and deepest. Born in Denmark in 1637, Buxtehude was appointed organist of St. Mary's at Lübeck at the age of thirty and remained there until his death in 1707. This organ, one of the finest of that period, possessed three manuals and fifty-three speaking stops, fifteen of which were on the pedal.

César Franck

Third Chorale

The three chorales for organ were the last works of Franck. They are free improvisations built around chorale themes. The third is perhaps the best. After an introductory passage, the theme appears in simple harmonies in chorale style. Then follows a return of the introductory material. The theme melodically embellished then takes place, this section being the main middle part of the work. The first ideas return in somewhat new forms and build to a great climax.

Sigfrid Karg-Elert

Soul of the Lake

One of the most descriptive works of the late Karg-Elert is the Soul of the Lake from the "Seven Pastels." The music tells a fanciful tale which the title conjures.

Engelbert Humperdinck

Prayer from "Hansel and Gretel"

The children's opera "Hansel and Gretel" marked a return to a simplicity of style in the nineteenth century following the complicated plots of court intrigue.

Leon Boëllmann

Suite Gothique

Introduction-Choral

Menuet Gothique

Prière à Notre Dame

Toccata

This suite is a good illustration of nineteenth century composition. The music is easily comprehended and offers both contrast and a brilliant climax in the final movement.

- PROFESSOR GILBERT T. ROWE, Presiding
- Organ—Fiddes Whittlock
- Call to Worship John Porter
O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness;
Serve Him with gladness, all the earth. Amen.
- Hymn—The Church's One Foundation (Aurelia) Wesley
- Prayer
- Anthem—Lead Kindly Light Lansing
Soloist—Miss ALDRIDGE, DR. GRAY
Lead, kindly light, amid th' encircling gloom, Lead Thou me on,
The night is dark, and I am far from home, Lead Thou me on;
Keep Thou my feet, I do not ask to see the distant scene,
One step enough for me.
- I was not ever thus, nor prayed that Thou shouldst lead me on,
I loved to choose and see my path, but now lead Thou me on;
I lo'd the garish day, and spite, and spite of fears,
Pride ruled my will; remember not past years.
- So long Thy pow'r has led me, sure it still will lead me on,
O'er moor and fen, o'er moor and fen, o'er crag and torrent
Till night is gone, till night is gone.
- And with the morn those angel faces smile,
Which I have loved long since and lost while
And lost awhile.
Lead kindly light, lead Thou me on.

- Hymn—My Faith Looks Up to Thee (Olivet) Mason
- Scripture
- Anthem—Unfold, Ye Portals Gounod
Unfold, ye portals everlasting, With welcome to receive Him ascending on high! Behold the King of Glory!
He mounts up through the sky, Back to the heav'nly mansions
hasting.
Unfold, for lo, the King comes nigh.
But who is He, the King of Glory? He who Death overcame,
The Lord in battle mighty.
But who is He, the King of Glory? Of hosts He is the Lord;
Of angels and of powers; the King of Glory is the King of the saints.
Unfold, unfold, ye portals everlasting, With welcome to receive Him ascending on high! Behold, the King of Glory!
He mounts up through the sky, Back to the heav'nly mansions
hasting.
Unfold, unfold, for lo, the King comes nigh.
- Sermon—"What Doth the Lord Require of Thee?"
Rev. Frank S. Hickman

The Lord bless you and keep you. The Lord lift His countenance

you. Amen.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON ORGAN RECITAL

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital to be given in the University Chapel, Sunday afternoon, February 6, at 4:00 o'clock, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

César Franck Chorale in E Major

The first chorale of Franck is one of the most deeply religious of musical compositions. It is, of course, built upon the chorale theme, original with Franck, and treated in many varied ways. One can not fail to be impressed with the extensive use of chromaticism so common at the close of the nineteenth century.

Frederick Stanley Smith Introspection

It is always a pleasure to do honor to a North Carolina composer. Mr. Smith, of Southern Pines, has published several organ and choral work of high caliber.

Léon Billmann Ronde Française

The vitality of this short transcription makes it very popular on organ programs. It is built upon one theme which greets us at the opening of the work and continues on its merry way to the close.

Percy Whitlock Adante Tranquillo
Folk Tune

The charm and freshness of these musical tidbits arise from their style in the nature of improvisations.

Felix Mendelssohn Sixth Sonata
Chorale and Variations
Fuga
Finale

The climax of this sonata comes in the last variation where the familiar theme is trumpeted by the pedal. The fugue, while of ordinary interest, is distinctly anticlimactic. The last movement in a measure makes up for the weak fugue. It is a slow and very soft finale which leaves one relaxed and dreamy of mood.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON ORGAN RECITAL

Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist, has arranged the following program for the organ recital to be given Sunday, February 20, at 4:00 p.m., in the University Chapel:

Johann Sebastian Bach

Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring Sonatina From "God's Time Is Best"

Charles Marie Widor

Symphony V
Allegro vivace
Allegro Cantabile
Andantino quasi allegretto
Toccata—Allegro

Widor is best known in this country as an organ composer, certain movements from his symphonies for that instrument having achieved great popularity. These works are among the most important in the organ repertory, both in scope and in the influence they have had on organ technique, idiom and registration.

The title "symphony" is sometimes inappropriate, especially in the case of some of the earlier sets, which, consisting as they do of six or seven movements, some rather slight and short, would be better termed "suites." Justification is perhaps found in the treatment of the organ as a kind of self-contained orchestra.

The range of style and mood is very wide, the movements comprising canons, fugues, toccatas, marches, scherzos, some very highly-wrought adagios, and a very fine set of variations.

Call to Worship

John Porter

O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness;
Serve Him with gladness, all the earth. A-men.

Hymn—O Jesus, Once a Nazareth Boy

(All Saints) Cutler

Prayer

Anthem—Great Is The Lord

Thomas

Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised: In the city of our God, in the mountain of His Holiness.
Beautiful for situation, The joy of the whole earth is Mount Zion.
On the sides of the north, The city of a great King.
For lo, the kings were assembled, they passed by together,
They saw it, they were troubled, And hasted away.
We have thought of Thy loving kindness, O God; in the midst of Thy Temple.
According to Thy Name, Thy Name, O God.
So is Thy praise unto the end of the earth.
For this is our God for ever and ever:
Great is the Lord for ever and ever. A-men.

Hymn—Dear Lord and Father of Man-kind (Whittier) Maker

Scripture

Anthem—Come Let Us Sing

Mascagni-Howorth

Mr. Correll, Double Quartet and Chorus

Hear us O Lord, we humbly bow before Thee, Hallelujah!
O Lord we come before Thy presence, Hallelujah!
Hear us Father, we beseech Thee, Have mercy on us, and incline our hearts to keep Thy law. Hallelujah!
O come, let us sing unto the Lord—Let us praise Him with song and adoration, Let us praise Him with psaltry and harp,
Let us sing of our great, great salvation.
Hear us Father, Hear us while we sing, Let us lift up our hearts unto God, our strength, Let us sing unto Christ ever glorious;
Let us rejoice in the strength of our salvation.
Let us come with a song—ever praising His name, Hallelujah
Let us lift up our hearts unto God.
Let us come with a song ever praising His name,
We will sing of the Lord.
Let us lift up our hearts unto God—our strength,
Let us sing unto Christ ever glorious;
Let us rejoice in the strength of our salvation.
Praise Him with psaltry and harp, Hallelujah!
We will sing to the Lord! Praise the Lord.

ORGAN RECITAL

Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist, has arranged the following program for the organ recital to be given Sunday afternoon, February 27, at 4:00 o'clock, in the University Chapel:

Johann Sebastian Bach

Concerto in G

Allegro
Grave
Presto

Bach's concertos were inspired by the violin concertos of Corelli and Vivaldi, his Italian predecessors. Occasionally Bach even imitates the violin style or uses a Vivaldi melody. The concertos are the least polyphonic of the Bach compositions and are thus easier to comprehend.

Enrico Bossi

Meditation in a Cathedral

Bossi was a victim of the tragedy of the Titanic.

Alexander Mathews

The Fountain

Jules Massenet

Meditation from Thaïs

Garth Edmundson

Christus Advenit
Adeste Fidelis
Veni Emanuel
In Dulci Jubilo
Vom Himmel Hoch

This is the second Christmas suite by the young composer of Newcastle, Pennsylvania, who is becoming very popular among organists throughout the country.

The experience of past Student-Faculty Days has shown that the confusion of unrecorded invitations prevents the committee from being sure that every member has an engagement. Unless it is specifically stated, the invitation does not include the wife of the staff member.

Correction. With last week's Bulletin an information sheet on Self-Help Regulations was distributed. The date on it read "September, 1938" but should have read "September, 1937." The regulations cover the present academic year.

MR. GEOFFREY O'HARA TO SPEAK ON TUESDAY, MARCH 15

Mr. Geoffrey O'Hara, famous composer, will speak in Page Auditorium, Tuesday evening, March 15, at 7:15 o'clock. His subject will be "Let's Make a Tune."

Mr. O'Hara is the composer of more than a hundred successful songs and is widely known as one of America's best known composers who sees the humor in music and in life. His lectures are said to provide "a laugh a minute."

Among his songs are "There is No Death," "I Love a Little Cottage," "Guns," "Where Heaven Is," and his operettas include, "Peggy and Pirate," "The Smiling Sixpence," "Lantern Land," and "Rogues and Vagabonds."

Special attention is directed to the change in hour from 8:00 to 7:15 p.m.

COUNCIL MEETING ON INSTRUCTION FOR WOMEN

There will be a council meeting on Instruction for Women, Tuesday afternoon, March 15, at 4:00 o'clock, in East Duke Building.

DR. HARRY E. COOPER TO BE GUEST ORGANIST AT THE RECITAL, SUNDAY, MARCH 13

Dr. Harry E. Cooper, Organist, and head of the music department at Meredith College, Raleigh, N. C., will give an organ recital Sunday afternoon, March 13, at 4:00 o'clock, in the University Chapel.

Dr. Cooper's early training under Mrs. John M. Hazelton and Edward Kreiser was continued under other music artists in this country and later supplemented by study abroad. He is a fellow of the American Guild of Organists, and over a period of twenty years he has served as organist and choirmaster of three large Kansas City churches.

Following is Dr. Cooper's program:

Johann Sebastian Bach Prelude and Fugue in D Major

This brilliant prelude and fugue were written during the master's Weimar period. They possess a charming freedom and vigor and were probably intended for concert use and not for the church service.

Philip James Meditation a St. Clotilde

This is a reverie inspired by the great cathedral. In it we hear themes from Franck's Symphony in D minor, reminiscent of the Belgian composer, who was organist of St. Clotilde for many years.

Clement Loret Cantabile in B Minor

This composition displays the rare finesse which many French composers have at their command in presenting small works of light calibre.

Oreste Ravanello Christus Resurrexit

An Easter song of triumph in which the trumpets are heard to reiterate time and again "Christ Is Risen! Christ Is Risen To-day."

Alexander Russell The Citadel

This is one of the St. Lawrence Sketches by the distinguished American, Alexander Russell.

Powell Weaver The Squirrel

Powell Weaver, the composer of this picturesque piece, is a Kansas City organist.

Paul Wachs Pastorale

Enrico Bossi Scherzo in G Minor

The late Enrico Bossi was an Italian organist and composer. He has produced in this scherzo a most pleasing example of the form, the essence of which is sport, jest, brightness.

SYMPHONY TO FEATURE DUO-PIANISTS IN ANNUAL CONCERT

In its third annual formal concert the Duke University Symphony is happy to present the two-piano team of Bell-Throm in a program of classical, romantic, and modern music, on Thursday evening, March 17, at 8:15 o'clock, in Page Auditorium. In addition to playing the Mozart concerto in E flat for two pianos and orchestra, Miss Bell and Miss Throm will give three groups of varying moods and periods.

In its first attempt at using guest artists on a program of this kind, the Duke Instrumental Music Association feels particularly fortunate in having secured the right to present these two charming young ladies in their Southern debut. Their interpretations and choice of program material is so delightful as to please any concert-goer.

The program follows:

Call to Worship—Hear Thou, O Lord Thco. F. Ganschow

O hear Thou when we pray. Direct us.
Direct us from all sin today.
Renew our troubled heart within.
O hear us, O hear us, O Father, hear us when we pray.
O Father, hear us, we pray, we pray to Thee. A-men.

Hymn—Guide Me O Thou Great Jehovah (Zion) Hastings

Prayer

Anthem—Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence Holst

Soloists—MRS. STANLEY AND MR. FEAGINS

Let all mortal flesh keep silence, and with fear and trembling stand;
Ponder nothing earthly minded for with blessing in his hand,
Christ our Lord to earth descendeth our full homage to demand.
King of Kings, yet born of Mary, as of old on earth He stood,
Lord of Lords, in human vesture in the Body and the Blood
He will give to all the faithful His own Self for heavenly food.
Rank on rank the host of heaven spreads its vanguard on the way
As the light of light descendeth from the realms of endless day
That the pow'rs of hell may vanish as the darkness clears away.
At His feet the six-winged seraph; Cherubim with sleepless eye,
Veil their faces to the Presence, as with ceaseless voice they cry,
Alleluia, Lord most High. A-men.

Hymn—A Mighty Fortress Is Our God

Scripture

Anthem—Built On a Rock Christiansen

Obligato—MISSES CARRELL, HENDERSON, AND WAGGONER Built on a Rock the Church doth stand, Even when steeples are falling;
Crumbled have spires in every land, Bells still are chiming and
calling;
Calling the young and old to rest, But above all the soul distress,

Longing for rest everlasting. Bells are chiming, calling.
Surely in temple made with hands, God, the most high, is not dwelling.

High above earth His temple stands, All earthly temples excelling;
Yet He whom heavens can not contain, Chose to abide on earth with men,
Built in our bodies His temple.

ORGAN RECITAL

The following program will be rendered at the Organ Recital to be given Sunday afternoon, March 27, at 4:00 o'clock, in the University Chapel by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Johann Sebastian Bach Fantasia and Fugue in G Minor

As one of the greater of the Bach organ works this fugue always gives intense satisfaction both to the listener and to the performer. One can not always explain the depth of Bach but acquaintance with his music always brings recognition of his emotional and intellectual profundity.

George Frederic Handel

Air à la Bourrée

Although Bach and Handel were both born in 1685 only a few miles apart, they never saw each other. Bach remained comparatively obscure as a teacher and church organist in Germany, his only fame resting upon his remarkable ability as a performer. Handel came into the limelight at an early period, moving to England about 1711 where he was acknowledged even by his vigorous opponents as one of the most outstanding composers and conductors of his day.

Philip James

Méditation à Ste. Clotilde

One interesting element of this work is the inclusion by the composer of the lovely F Major theme from the first movement of Franck's D Minor symphony.

Sigfrid Karg-Elert

Adeste Fidelis
Ave Maria

Cathedral Windows, from which these selections are taken, a collection of six organ pieces built upon Gregorian tunes.

Ralph Kinder

In Springtime

Felix Mendelssohn

Wedding March

The Overture to the Midsummer Night's Dream was written when Mendelssohn was only a lad of seventeen. The incidental music to the play was written almost thirty years later, yet the style is perfectly harmonious with that of the Overture.

Anthem—Go To Dark Gethsemane Noble

Go to dark Gethsemane, Ye that feel the tempter's pow'r;
Your Redeemer's conflict see, Watch with Him one bitter hour,
Turn not from His griefs away, Learn of Jesus Christ to pray.
Follow to the judgment-hall; View the Lord of life arraigned;
Oh the wormwood and the gall! Oh the pangs His soul sustained!
Shun not suffering, shame, or loss, Learn of Him to bear the Cross.
Calvary's mournful mountain climb; There, adoring at His feet,
Mark the miracle of time, God's own sacrifice complete,
"It is finished!" hear Him cry; Learn of Jesus Christ to die.
A-men.

Soprano Soloist—MRS. A. E. STANLEY

Ah! turn me not away Receive me, though unworthy, Hear thou my cry, behold Lord my distress—
Answer me from Thy throne—Haste Thee Lord to mine aid
Thy pity show, in my deep anguish.
Let not the sword of vengeance smite me,
Tho' righteous Thine anger, O Lord; Shield me in danger,

O regard me, on Thee, Lord, alone will I call—

O divine Redeemer, I pray Thee, grant me pardon, and remember not, remember not my sins.

Forgive me, O divine Redeemer, I pray Thee, grant me pardon, and remember not, remember not O Lord, my sins.

Night gathers round my soul Fearful I cry to Thee

Come to mine aid O Lord—Haste Thee, Lord, haste to help me.

Hear my cry, Save me, Lord, in Thy mercy.

Hear my cry come and save me, O Lord—O divine Redeemer,

I pray Thee, grant me pardon, and remember not O Lord, my sins.

Organ—Fidelis Whitlock

Call to Worship—Hear Thou, O Lord Theo. F. Ganschow

O hear Thou when we pray. Direct us.
Direct us from all sin today.
Renew our troubled heart within,
O hear us, O hear us, O Father, hear us when we pray.
O Father, hear us, we pray, we pray to Thee. A-men.

Hymn—Hosanna, Loud Hosanna (Aurelia) Wesley

Prayer

Anthem—Ride on! Ride on! Thompson

Ride on! ride on in majesty! Hark! all the tribes hosanna cry;
O Saviour meek, pursue thy road With palms and scatter'd garments strewed

Ride on! ride on in majesty! In lowly pomp ride on to die;
O Christ, thy triumphs now begin. O'er captive death and conquer'd sin.

Ride on! ride on in majesty! The winged squadrons of the sky
Look down with sad and wond'ring eyes To see the approaching sacrifice.

Thy last and fiercest strife is nigh; The Father on his throne
Expects his own anointed Son. Ride on! ride on in majesty!
Ride on! Ride on, In lowly pomp ride on to die, Bow thy meek head.

Thy head to mortal pain, Then take, O God, thy pow'r, and reign.
O Christ, thy triumphs now begin. Ride on, ride majesty!
Ride on, ride on, ride on!

Hymn—Into the Woods My Master Went (Lanier) Lutkin

they laid Him in the tomb? Were you there?

Benediction
Response By Choir—Sevenfold A-men Stainer
Organ—In an Old Cathedral Foschini

SUNDAY AFTERNOON ORGAN RECITAL

Following is the program arranged for the Organ Recital Sunday afternoon, April 10, at 4:00 o'clock, in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Johann Sebastian Bach Prelude and Fugue in D Minor

The prelude is unusual in that it is written without pedals. It is slow and stately in contrast with the gay and lively fugue. The subject of the fugue is quite short and is easily followed in its many appearances.

François Couperin Sœur Monique

"Sister Monica" is a delicate tune similar to the pieces written for the harpsichord by the famous Couperin family, a family which was contemporaneous to the great Bach and held a position of importance in France comparable to that of Bach in Germany.

Franz Liszt Notturmo No. 2

One of the famous three "Dreams of Love."

César Franck Pièce Héroïque

The most popular of the Franck organ works.

Mr. Stefansson began his career as an explorer by a trip to Iceland in 1904 and a second Icelandic expedition in 1905. Then followed three expeditions to the far Arctic lands where he discovered the Eskimos who had never seen a white man, and living with them for eleven years, he acquired a more intimate knowledge of their language and their lives than has ever been possessed by a white man.

For his discoveries, and for the understanding of the Arctic and its people he has received honors from many scientific organizations. He is a gold medallist of the leading geographical societies of the United States, Great Britain and France. His lecture is sure to be heard with much interest and profit.

The University community and public are invited to attend this lecture.

TENTH BIRTHDAY PARTY OF QUADRANGLE PICTURES, MAY 13 AND 14

Quadrangle Pictures announces its tenth birthday party for Friday and Saturday, May thirteenth and fourteenth.

Advance requests are now being accepted for the few seats which will be reserved for the birthday performances.

By popular demand, Mr. Paul Whiteman, his orchestra and radio artists will return to help Quadrangle celebrate this anniversary. The Whiteman group will appear for approximately an hour on Friday, May 13, at 3:15, 7:15 and 10:15 p.m. and on Saturday, May 14, at 3:15 and 8:15 p.m.

A portion of the Friday evening stage performances will constitute Mr. Whiteman's regular CBS nation-wide broadcasts. One hundred and three stations of the Columbia Broadcasting System network will carry these programs. Actually, there are two broadcasts, the 7:15 performance will be broadcast from 7:30 to 8:00 p.m. by the Columbia stations in the Eastern and Central time zones, including the local radio station WDNC, and the 10:15 performance will be re-broadcast from 10:30 to 11:00 p.m. by the Columbia stations in the Rocky Mountain and Pacific zones. Differences in time over the United States often make re-broadcasts necessary, as is the case with all Whiteman Friday evening presentations. In addition to the stage performances there will be a screen program beginning at about 1:45 on both afternoons, at 6:05 on Friday evening, and at 6:45 on Saturday evening. The feature picture will be the comedy "It's Love I'm After," with Leslie Howard, Bette Davis, and Olivia de Havilland. An R.K.O. Pre-Release News and a Walt Disney cartoon will complete the short screen program. Last complete performances will begin at 3:15 p.m. for the matinees, at 9:00 o'clock on Friday evening and 8:15 o'clock on Saturday evening.

Regular admission for the majority of the seats in Page Auditorium will be: Matinee 35c, evening 50c. A few seats will be reserved: Matinee 50c, evening 75c. However, on Friday evening reserved seats will be obtainable only for the first stage performance at 7:15 as the holding of these seats precludes the possibility of reserving them for the later Friday evening performance. Reserved seats may be obtained at the Page Auditorium Box Office, Telephone F-131, Extension 484; Mailing Address, Box 4814, Duke Station.

Anthem—Hail, Dear Conqueror Philip James

Hail, all hail, dear Conqueror, Oh, what a victory is Thine!

How beautiful, how beautiful Thy strength appears,

Thy crimson wounds, how bright they shine!

Thou camest at the dawn of day, Armies of souls around Thee were;

Blest spirits, thronging to adore Thy flesh so marvellous, so fair.

With a voice of singing declare ye this; tell this, and let it be heard;

With a voice of singing utter it e'en to the end of the earth:

The Lord hath redeem'd His people.

Anthem—My Faith Looks Up to Thee Schnecker

Soloists: Miss Aldridge, Mrs. Warner, Mr. Mackie

Violin Obligato by Mr. Speed Veal

My faith looks up to Thee, Thou Lamb of Calvary, Saviour divine!

Now hear me while I pray, Take all my guilt away,

O let me from this day Be wholly Thine!

May Thy rich grace impart Strength to my fainting heart,

My zeal inspire; Thou hast died for me, O may my love to Thee,

Pure, warm and changeless be, A living fire.

While life's dark maze I tread, And griefs around me spread,

Be Thou my guide, my guide; Bid darkness turn to day,

Wipe sorrow's tears away, Nor let me ever stray From Thee aside.

When ends life's transient dream, When death's cold sullen stream

Shall o'er me roll, Blest Saviour! then, in love, Fear and distrust remove,

O bear me safe above, A ransom'd soul!

SUNDAY AFTERNOON ORGAN RECITAL

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital Sunday afternoon, May 1, at 4:00 o'clock, in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

Hendrik Andriessen

Third Choral

Andriessen is a contemporary Dutch composer and organist of Amsterdam. His works mark him as a worthy peer of the famous Netherlands school of musicians who provided music and directors for every important city of Europe in the sixteenth century.

Leo Sowerby

Madrigal

In the midst of a very promising career as composer and teacher, Sowerby is one American who can match the creations of any modern European composer.

Charles Vardell, Jr.

Skyland

Vardell is the well-known Winston-Salem organist and director. He has included the following descriptive paragraph about his work:

"The strains of an old mountain 'hallet' mingle with the misty blue of distant peaks and the hues of the sunset which flame gorgeously, then die away. 'Barbara Allen,' a folk song of great antiquity, is here used in a form peculiar to the mountains of western North Carolina."

Julius Reuhke

The Ninety-Fourth Psalm

Julius Reuhke was born at Hausneindorf, Germany, in 1834 and died at Pillnitz in 1858, less than twenty-five years of age. He was a composer, pianist, and organist—a pupil of Liszt.

This sonata, really a fantasia, consists of three movements, preceded by an elaborate introduction. A single theme serves as the basis for the whole structure. It appears first in the pedal very softly at the beginning. The first movement struggles to a great climax and grows soft quickly for the lovely legato slow movement. The closing section is a gigantic fugue.

This is one of the outstanding organ compositions of the early nineteenth century. Very little organ music from the time of Bach till that of the late nineteenth century can be compared with it in grandeur.

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital Sunday afternoon, May 8, at 4:00 o'clock, in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist, assisted by Mrs. Stanley, soprano:

Johann Nicholas Hanff Ein' Feste Burg Ist Unser Gott

This is an elaboration of one of the chorales used in the Lutheran service. The predecessors of Bach, of whom Hanff was one, frequently made use of this material from the church for their compositions. The style is typical of the late seventeenth century.

Johann Sebastian Bach Wachet Auf, Ruft Uns Die Stimme

Bach treats this chorale in an entirely different fashion from the preceding number. It is written more polyphonically with two melodies running parallel with the main theme.

Seth Bingham

Cathedral Strains
Intercession

From Bingham's Suite for Organ these two selections are excellent examples of a modern use of polyphony by an American composer.

Johannes Brahms Though I Speak With the Tongues

Ernst Charles Clouds
When I Have Sung My Songs

Richard Strauss All Souls' Day
Mrs. Stanley

Gustave Samazeuilh Prelude
A lovely bit of impressionism similar to the works of Debussy.

Leo Sowerby Pageant
With a bit of imagination one can picture a brilliant pageant unfolding before the eyes. It is distinctly modern. From the performer's point of view it is interesting because of the extreme demands made upon pedal facility.

The Women's Chorus—God of All Nature
Tschaikowsky-Remick

God of the dawning, God of the noontime, God of the tranquil and brooding twilight, Father, O bless us, Father, O guide us, Give us the peace of Thy holy presence, Lord! Father, O Bless us, Father, now guide us, Give us the peace of Thy presence, O Lord! God of the starshine, God of the moonlight, God of the joyful and glowing sunbeams; Help us in sorrow, Help us in gladness, Give us the bliss of Thy radiant presence Lord!
Help us, O Lord! God of the valleys, God of the uplands, God of the mighty and marvellous mountains, Hear Thou our calling, Hear Thou our praying! Give of Thy strength, O Lord, Give of Thy glory and might!
God of all nature Give us Thy Glory!

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ recital to be given Sunday afternoon, May 22, at 4:00 o'clock, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

BACH PROGRAM

Prelude and Fugue in D Major

In his instrumental as in his vocal music Bach expressed himself in the forms convention prescribed. His genius ennobled them all.
But the Fugue it transformed into an art-form of the utmost expressiveness. Based on the contrapuntal method of vocal polyphony, a Fugue exhibits a rigid thematic subject, first presented in orderly succession in each part, and then treated by the composer with the skill at his command, in such a way as to impose it on the whole movement as its vivid and pervading thought.

Canzona in D Minor

The Canzona reveals the composer's sympathetic study of his Italian predecessor Frescobaldi. It is congruous with a solemn and majestic fabric and calculated to stimulate devotional feeling, qualities Forkel especially discerned in Bach's organ style.

Komm, Süßer Tod

Mein Jesu, Was Für Seelenweh

Although the art-song was not in use in Bach's day, he did write some songs, most of which were a part of a choral work. These two songs have been arranged for organ solo.

Toccata, Adagio and Fugue in C Major

In Parry's words, the Fugue is "the highest type of form based on a single thematic nucleus." For that reason it can easily degenerate into mechanical rigidity. But in Bach's hands, prefixed by the conventional Prelude, or more showy Fantasia or Toccata, the Fugue was endowed with the richest artistic qualities. Modeled with consummate craftsmanship, constructed on themes of genuine melody, and treated with intuitive contrapuntal skill, the Fugue became the most nervous form of self-expression at his command.

Sinfonia to "Ich Steh' Mit Einem Fuss Im Grabe"

March from "Drama Per Musica"

These are instrumental movements from a sacred and a secular cantata. The only major field of composition untouched by Bach was that of the opera. Undoubtedly he was not inclined to lend his talents to a form so insincere and showy as that of the popular Neapolitan opera of his day. His secular cantatas, however, received the titles "Drama Per Musica" and were probably performed with costumes and scenery. The nature of the music, with the exception of the omission of chorals, was identical with that of the sacred cantatas.

Badinerie from the "Suite in B Minor"

Air for the G String

These numbers are arrangements from the orchestral suites, the first by Robert Leech Bedell, organist at the Brooklyn Museum of Art. Bach's suites are in the traditional classic form, consisting of an overture and a series of dance forms.

Toccata and Fugue in D Minor

Bach's name and the Fugue are inseparably associated. None before him and none after him has been able to confer on it so consistently the attributes he has taught us to expect and admire. As Beethoven to the Sonata or Haydn to the Quartet, Bach stands to the Fugue as its classic and unrivalled exemplar.

Anthem—By Babylon's Wave Gounod

Here by Babylon's wave, Tho' heathen hands have hound us,
Tho' afar from our land, The pains of death surround us;
Zion! thy mem'ry still, In our hearts we are keeping,
And still we turn to thee, Our eyes all sad with weeping, Tbro' our harps that we hung on the trees, Goes the low wind wearily moaning.
Mingles the sad note of the breeze, With voice as sad of sigh and groaning.
When mad with wine our foe rejoices, When unto their altars they throng,
Loud for mirth then they call, A song! A song of Zion sing, lift up your voices.
Lord, tho' the victor command, In captivity sad and lowly,
How shall we raise thy song so holy, That we sung in our fatherland.
Jerusalem! If we forget thee, Let our hands remember not their pow'r,
And our tongues be silent from that hour, Jerusalem! Jerusalem!
Let our tongues be silent from that hour, Jerusalem! if we forget thee.
Woe unto thee, Babylon, mighty city, For the day of thy fall is nigh!
For thee no hope! for thee no pity, Tho' loud thy wail riseth on high!

Then shalt thou, desolate, forsaken, Be torn from thy fanes and thy thrones,
In that day, in that day shall thy babes be taken, taken and dashed, against the stones! Then unto thee, O Babylon the mighty, be woe!

Baritone Solo—I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked Geoffrey O'Hara

J. FOSTER BARNES

I walked today where Jesus walked, In days of long ago;
I wandered down each path He knew, With rev'rent step and slow.
Those little lanes, they have not changed—A sweet peace fills the air.
I walked today where Jesus walked, And felt His presence there.
My pathway led through Bethlehem, Ah! mem'ries ever sweet;
The little hills of Galilee, That knew those childish feet;
The Mount of Olives; hallowed scenes That Jesus knew before;
I saw the mighty Jordan roll As in the days of yore.
I knelt today where Jesus knelt, Where all alone He prayed;
The Garden of Gethsemane My heart felt unafraid!
I picked my heavy burden up And with Him by my side,
I climbed the Hill of Calvary, Where on the Cross He died!
I walked today where Jesus walked And felt Him close to me!

ORGAN RECITAL SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Following is the program arranged for the organ
recital to be given at 4:00 o'clock, Sunday afternoon,
May 29, in the University Chapel, by Mr. Edward Hall Broadhead, University Organist:

FRANCK PROGRAM

Fantaisie in A Major

It was in Liège, Belgium, that César Franck was born in December of 1822. His early life was spent in this French section of the country and at the age of twelve his family moved to Paris so that the children might have better musical opportunities. From 1858 until his death in 1890, he was organist at the Church of Sainte Clotilde in Paris.

Cantabile

The Cantabile in B major with its suave and devotional theme will ever remain the typical prayer of an artist who was also a true Christian. Twice the prayer is heard; and here again one can not fail to admire the wonderful canon which, moving with unbroken ease, forms the adornment of the melody.

Grande Pièce Symphonique

This marks the first use of the sonata by Franck. It is the first of all those organ symphonies which have since enriched modern music. The first movement is built on two ideas in sonata-form, preceded by an introduction which reappears in the course of the development. The Andante movement is in ternary form, the second section of which, by reason of its rapid tempo, may be regarded as taking the place of a Scherzo. The Finale is led up to by a recapitulation of the chief ideas which have been previously exposed, its principal theme being identical with that of the first movement.
The whole work is connected by one leading idea.

Andantino

Of lighter character the Andantino consists of an unusual melody with an accompaniment of rather an oriental flavor. The work is perhaps the least like Franck of any of his compositions.

Choral in A Minor

The three organ chorals were the last work of Franck. They express in a manner similar to that of Bach the variation of a theme either used or typical of the great chorale tunes of the Lutheran reformation or of the more ancient Gregorian chants.

LAST ISSUE OF CALENDAR

This is the last issue of the University Calendar for the academic year 1937-38. Important notices will be posted on the bulletin boards, if brought to the Public Relations Office, Room 103, University Union.

ALUMNI-ALUMNAE LUNCHEON MONDAY, JUNE 6

As usual, members of the faculty and the administration of the University, whether Duke alumni or not, are invited to attend the annual Alumni-Alumnae Luncheon at Commencement. The luncheon will be held this year on Monday, June 6, at 12:45 p.m., in the University Union. CENTENNIAL COMMENCEMENT, JUNE 4-6, 1938
